Rodney B. Wilson High School

St. Johns, Michigan

A Year Goes By . . .

A year of time . . . a year of change. Such was 1966-1967.

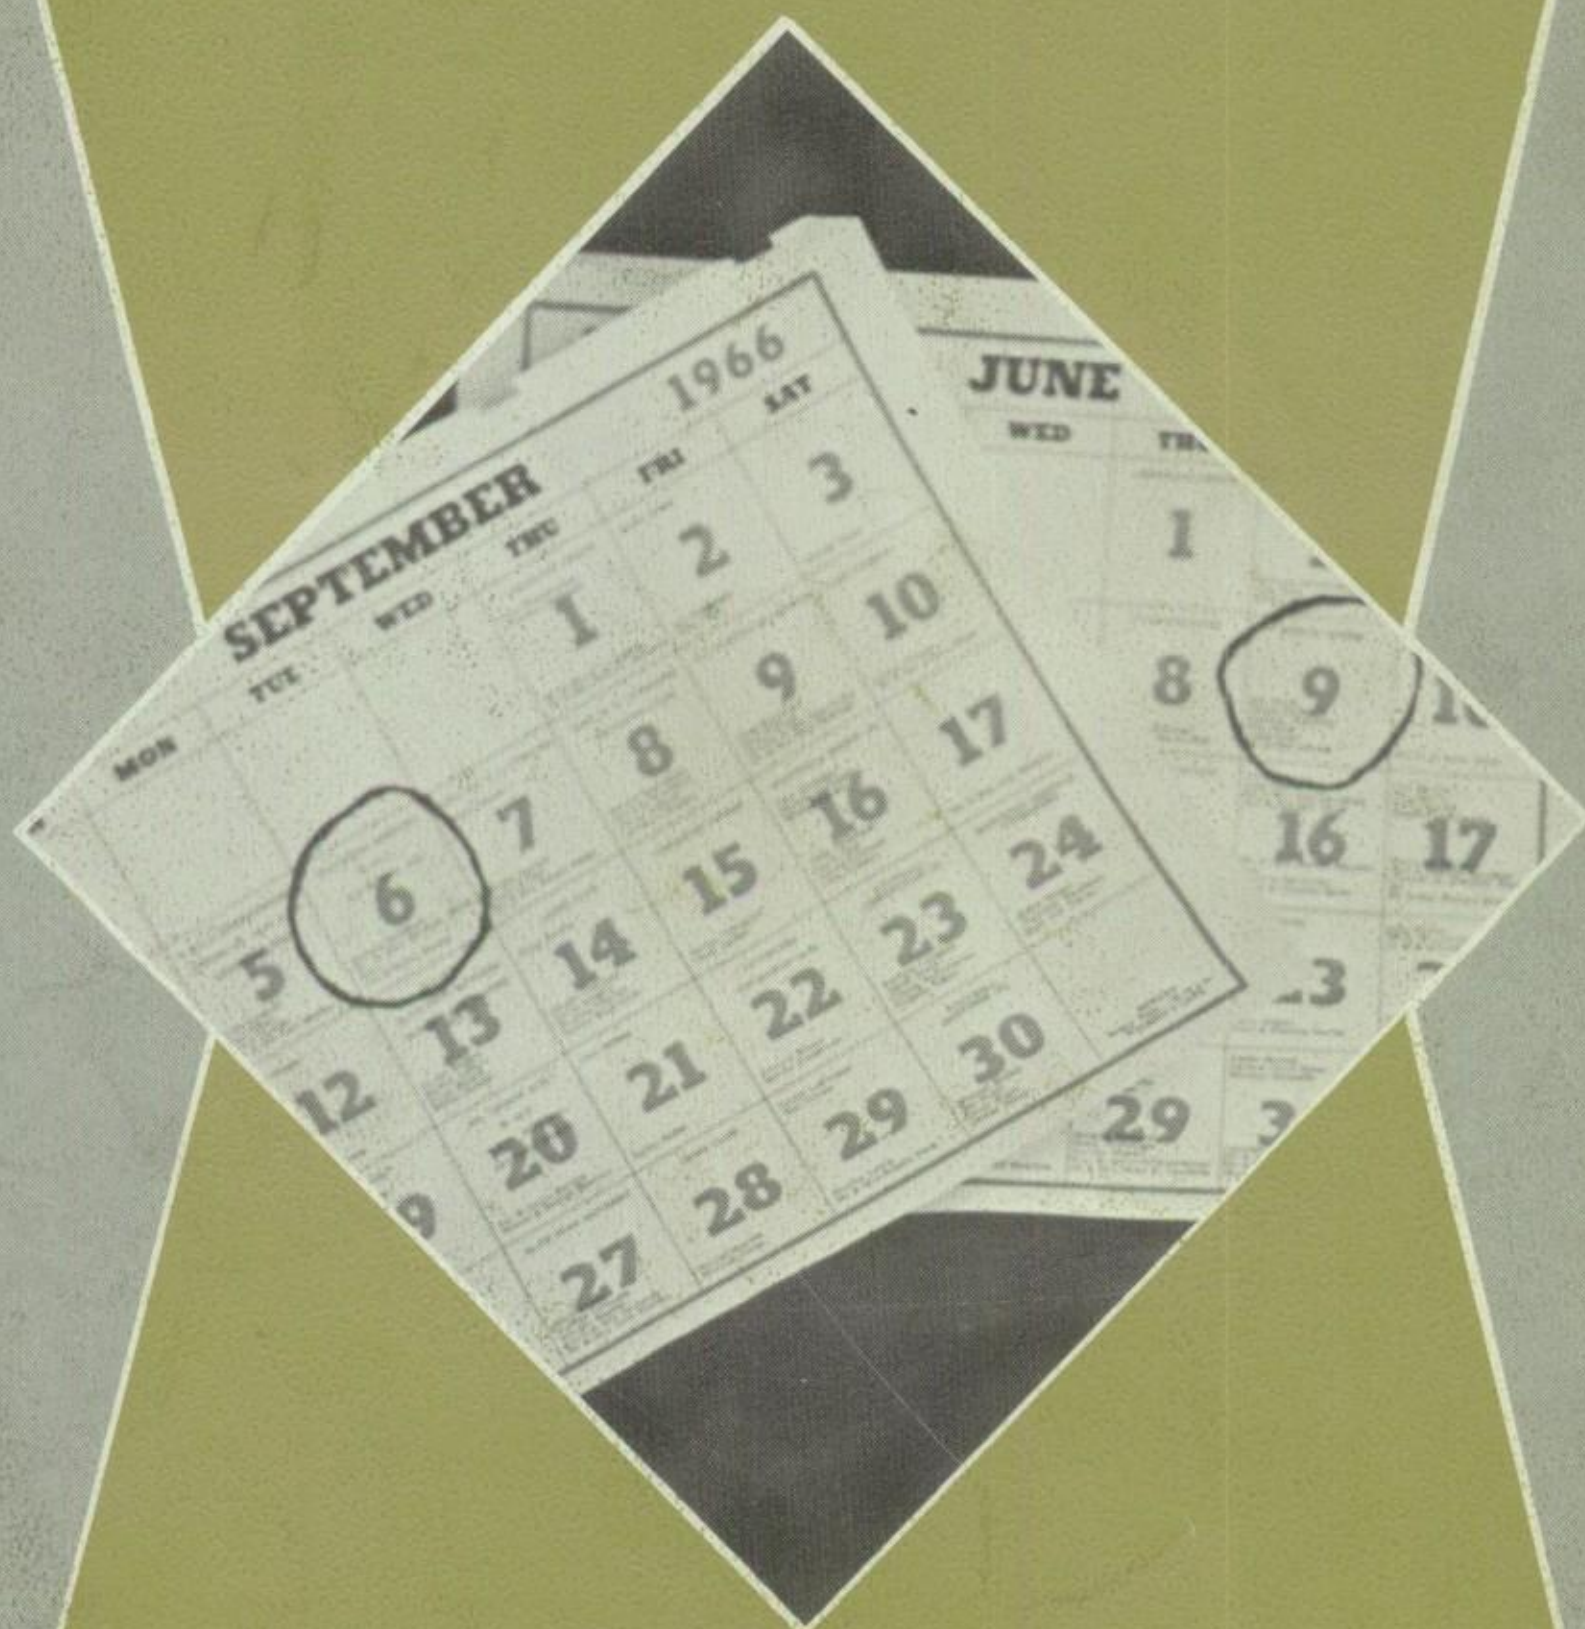

The Student Council brought changes in government, instituted a new look for Homecoming and an entirely new initiation.

The weather dumped snow in drifts, brought ice and no school.

Among other changes came plans for a new High School and elementary schools.

Truly, this was the year for changes, excitement, and looking ahead.

This Was the Year of . . .
Decision

BOARD MEMBERS ARE: Leon Schumaker, Alden Livingston, Fred Meyer, secretary; Raymond Parr, president; Wendell Waggoner, Donald Bast, and Bill Richards.

Rising Building Costs Create Headaches for Board

The year of 1967 was a year of planning by the Board of Education. Decisions were made concerning the plans for the new high school and elementary schools.

Bonds were sold and bids were taken for the school buildings.

The Board members spent many hours discussing new ideas with the architect Guido A. Binda and associates to finalize the plans. According to the schedule, the new St. Johns High School will be completed by the fall of 1968.

In February, the Board members and their wives flew to Atlantic City, New Jersey, for a week to view furnishings and plans of other schools. A decision was made to furnish the library and offices of the High School with carpeting.

Other decisions included one involving make up of days due to snow. In line with other schools under North Central regulations, it was voted to carry on the school year as planned with no time made up.

Policy Plus Facilities Job of Administration

Entering his fifteenth year as Superintendent, Earl Lancaster faces many more duties and responsibilities than ever before.

As Chief Executive officer, Mr. Lancaster attends all board meetings and puts into effect the policies it makes. He interprets the needs of the school to the public and works with the staff.

Mr. Lancaster's degrees include a B.S. from Adrian College, a M.A. from the University of Michigan, and an Ed.S. from Michigan State University.

ADMINISTRATION ASSISTANT TO THE SUPERINTENDENT, Stephen A. Bakita, is in charge of the Federal programs, transportation, and Public Relations. He has received a B.S. and Master's from Central Michigan University.

HENRY L. ENOCHS is the business manager for the school. His many duties include keeping the school system financial file, financial reports, acting as the purchasing agent, and keeping the records and funds of the student activities.

MRS. ANN RINKER is the front office receptionist. She has numerous duties such as: working in the book store, making out working permits, general secretarial work, and she meets the public as the receptionist.

MISS CATHERINE STEVENS, the School Board secretary is in charge of keeping the payroll for all teachers and their personnel records. She makes sure that withholding tax is taken out of the teacher's pay check. She checks all teacher's certification, does quarterly retirement and Social Security reports. Besides these duties, Miss Stevens compiles the attendance for all district schools.

Mr. B. Stanley Pocuis has been the principal at Rodney B. Wilson High School for twenty-one years.

Each year brings a repetition of duties vital to a successful school. Among these are discipline, student records, college applications, and teacher co-ordination.

This year found him working with the architect and teachers in planning for the new school.

Mr. B. Stanley Pocuis, principal

The Hub of Activity . . . Principal Meets Challenges

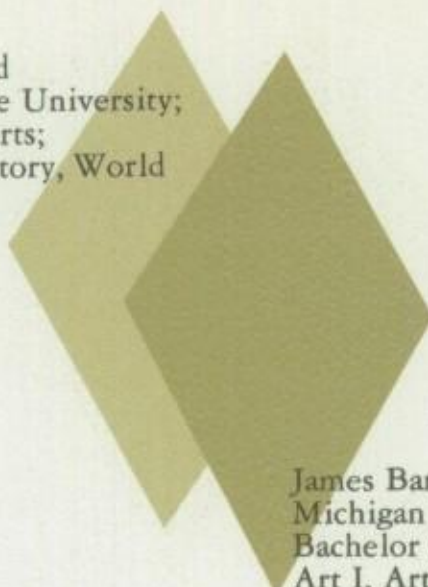

As secretary to the principal, Mrs. Edna Flegler is responsible for recording the grades of each student, making appointments and corresponding with parents.

Assistant principal, Dwane Wirick, is the head of the Student Service Center. His duties include keeping all attendance records and any other duties assigned by the administration. Mr. Wirick's duty as Athletic Director is to see that all games proceed on schedule, and he attends all games.

DWANE WIRICK, ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL

All Students Pa

Mrs. Elizabeth Cheney, secretary of the Student Service Center, busies herself with typing, filing, and taking dictation. She also assists the counselors with scheduling, recording test scores, and giving correspondence tests.

MRS. ELIZABETH CHENEY, SECRETARY OF STUDENT SERVICE CENTER.

The girls assisting Mr. Wirick in the morning are: Melanie Green, Judy Fox, Debbie Meyer, Val Bartholemew, Val Salters, and Monica Hatta.

Through This Center

For one hour each day, each student office helper assists Mr. Wirick in the Student Service Center. The duties consist of answering the telephone, delivering messages to students and teachers, taking roll call for the day, and assisting the students who have been tardy or absent. These girls also help the guidance counselors locate students for counseling interviews.

Under the supervision of Mr. Wirick, the girls that work in the office in the afternoon are: Jane Taylor, Barbara Kuripla, Dorothy Evitts, Linda Phinney, Gay Bond, Rexene Hanses, and Betty Motz.

Federal Funds Provide Help

Mrs. Luella Showers is an instructional secretary. She aids the teachers with duties such as typing and running the mimeograph machine.

Mrs. Irene Jumper is the noon-hour supervisor. Selling milk is one of her duties. She also assists Mr. Spencer in the Audio-Visual department.

Mrs. Ruth LeBlond is the library assistant. She helps Mrs. Nancy Horst, librarian, with the many duties concerning the library.

BECAUSE OF THE NEED for more space in the school, the Health Services Center was moved to a mobile trailer in back of the school.

Mrs. Gertrude Buehler heads the school's health services.

Mrs. Princess Parker, assistant, helps ease Mrs. Buehler's load.

Mrs. Olive Devereaux assumes her new role as medical secretary during the latter half of the year.

Mrs. Gertrude Buehler shared her duties with Mrs. Princess Parker, who is also a registered nurse. This year a new member was added to the staff when Mrs. Olive Devereaux became the medical secretary.

Tuberculosis tests were given to 90 per cent of the high school and elementary students by Dr. Stoller and the nurses. Hearing tests were administered to the elementary students. In addition, the teachers were given cold and flu shots at the beginning of the year.

Personnel Aids Students and Teachers

In charge of the audio-visual department is Robert Spencer. Included among the duties of this department are ordering and delivering films, supervising the use of the projectors, and advising both teachers and students in the use of the audio-visual equipment. Mr. Spencer is assisted by students through the office practice program.

Heading the counseling department is Albert LeFevre. He is assisted by Counselors Arlene Scramlin and John Furry.

Mr. Robert Jones, top, did his student teaching in government and psychology while Mr. Joe Gonzales, bottom, taught in the foreign language department.

Mr. John Speck was a student teacher in the Music Department.

The English department had Mr. Robert Holzhei as a student teacher during the spring term.

The band student teacher was Mr. Larry Wozsik.

Student Teachers Take Apprenticeship

Three student teachers came from Michigan State University for their training in the fall and two during the spring. They observed all areas of teaching, submitted plans to their supervising teachers, and were assigned classes to teach.

Seniors Experience Memorable Year

Numerous activities filled the year for the Seniors. The organizing of Homecoming was one of the first. Work on the Cinderella's Pumpkin proved worthwhile when it was unveiled on that windy night.

Three one-act plays were another highlight. The 17 man cast presented "The Plum Tree", "Judgment Morning", and "The Trumpet" as their Senior play directed by James Barger.

In May a combined Junior-Senior Prom "Rhapsody in Blue" gave the Seniors a Glorious night to remember as their last prom.

The Senior class officers held the responsibility of all the planning that went toward graduation. Name cards, announcements and caps and gowns were ordered. Their duties ended with graduation on June 7.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS from the top are: Jon Tatroe, president; Carla Motz, vice-president; Marilyn Motz, treasurer; Judy Williams, secretary.

Four Years of Responsibility End with Seniors

SENIOR ADVISORS: The Senior class was advised throughout their final year by, top to bottom: Gary Kingsley, John Theuerkauf, Arthur Peterson, Mrs. Dorothea Barnes, and Mrs. Heidrun Knuth. Not pictured: Miss Peggy Carson, Douglas Japinga, Paul Repath, and Frank Rosen-gren.

The Senior Girls Tea, an annual event sponsored by the St. Johns Women's Club was held on March 15 along with Senior Dress-Up Day.

Joan Jewett, of the Joan Jewett Charm School, entertained the girls with a talk on charm and etiquette.

Seniors Pick Ideals . . .

SHYEST. John Burnham and Delores Vitek seem to be making an attempt to overcome their shyness.

FRIENDLIEST. Although others turn their backs, Judy Williams and Duane Downing remain friendly.

CUTEST COUPLE. As they are seen every day, Dale Patterson and Marcia Parr walk through the halls between classes.

... with Vitality

MOST ALL-AROUND. Jane Taylor and Bill De-Groot exhibit a few of their many talents.

MOST ATHLETIC. Showing off their athletic abilities are Gary Boyce and Carol Eisler.

... with Humor

MOST TALKATIVE. Besides tying up their home phones, Sharon Hall and Jerry Lewis also manage to tie up the phones uptown.

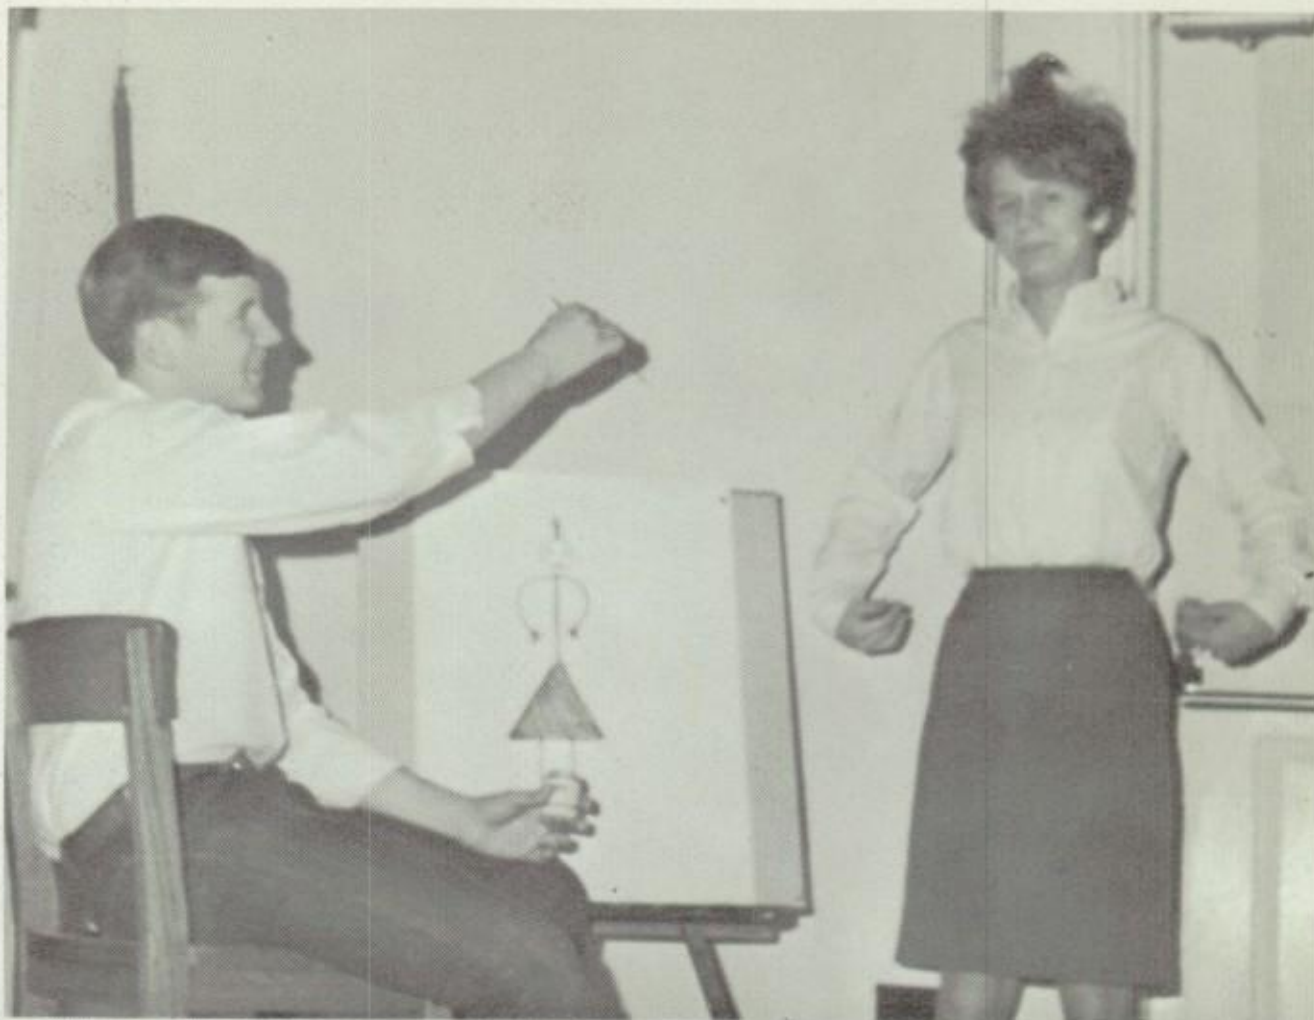

FLIRTATIOUS. Melanie Green and Doug Schafer sneak off to a dark corner in the balcony.

CLASS CLOWNS. Mr. Pocuis thinks he is backing away from Bill Besko, but he is in for a surprise when he falls over Carla Motz.

... with Talent

MOST ARTISTIC. Don Kraemer uses his artistic talents to paint a portrait of Deanna Dick.

BEST DANCERS. Pat Harper and Sue Kentfield demonstrate discotheque style.

Robbery Creates Class Unity

On March 19, 1967, Rodney B. Wilson High School was the scene of a robbery. Vandals entered the building by undetermined means sometime late Sunday night or early Monday morning. Doors in the main halls and several office doors were forced open and over $1500 was stolen; most of it belonging to the Senior class.

This tragedy marked the beginning of a great senior year. The seniors knew they needed the money for graduation. Through the "great robbery" the class of 1967 proved to be a united one. The seniors worked for the money by selling fire extinguishers, holding a pancake supper, selling snacks during the noon-hour, and sponsoring dances in the gym. They earned all the money they needed through hard work and a lot of fun.

... with Imagination

MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED. Chuck Stockwell points out to Kathy Bashore exactly what her future holds.

MOST ORIGINAL. Wild, man! Phil Anderson and Jane Morriss dream up an extravaganza.

... with Charm

BEST DRESSED. Making sure he looks his best, Joe O'Leary has Rexene Hansen straighten his tie.

BEST LOOKING. It's said that, "blondes have more fun," but do they have to be good looking, too?

This Was the Year of . . .
Advancement

Willing Hands Create Successful Activities

Eager and willing to accept the responsibilities as upper classmen, the Juniors, led by President Ed Lublow, began the year by receiving the class rings which symbolized their new status.

Two outstanding events of the year were the Junior Play "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis", and the Junior-Senior prom. To raise funds the Juniors sponsored concessions and after game dances.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS—From top: President Ed Lublow; Vice-President Andre Lewis; Treasurer Sandy Masarik, and Secretary Sandy Kramer.

THE BIG DAY! Juniors receive their rings.

Advisors Move With Class

STEVE TARR as Mr. Pipgrass, although old and wobbly, retained his interest in the affairs of youth. Here he listens to Cathy Buck as she tells her troubles.

Sophomores Gain Prestige

The Class of '69, led by President Chuck Romig, started its second year in Rodney B. by being the initiators instead of the initiates. This year the Sophomores also participated in Homecoming by building their own "Victory" float.

At various times during the year, the Class of 1969 sponsored concessions and dances to get money for their Junior prom.

At the end of the year they ordered their class rings.

CLASS OFFICERS. This year the Sophomores were led by President Chuck Romig, Vice-President Jane Weiber, Secretary Lexa Swatman, and Treasurer Sharon Howe.

STUDENT COUNCIL REPRESENTATIVES. Representing the Class of 1969 at all of the Student Council meetings were: Richard Vittek, Theresa Cornwell, and Mike Lewis.

Freshmen Adapt To New Surroundings

In a week long Beanie-type initiation, the Freshmen were officially accepted into the student body of Rodney B. Wilson. At enrollment, approximately 300 students, the largest number of Freshmen in the school's history, began their high school careers.

Tom Fowler was elected to lead the incoming students through their first year in high school.

The class sponsored an after-game dance as its main money-making project.

Along with the Class of 1970, a new beanie-type initiation was introduced. Freshmen became a part of the student body following a week of agony, frustration, and fun.

Freshman initiation included beanies, stuffed animals, and many unforgettable experiences.

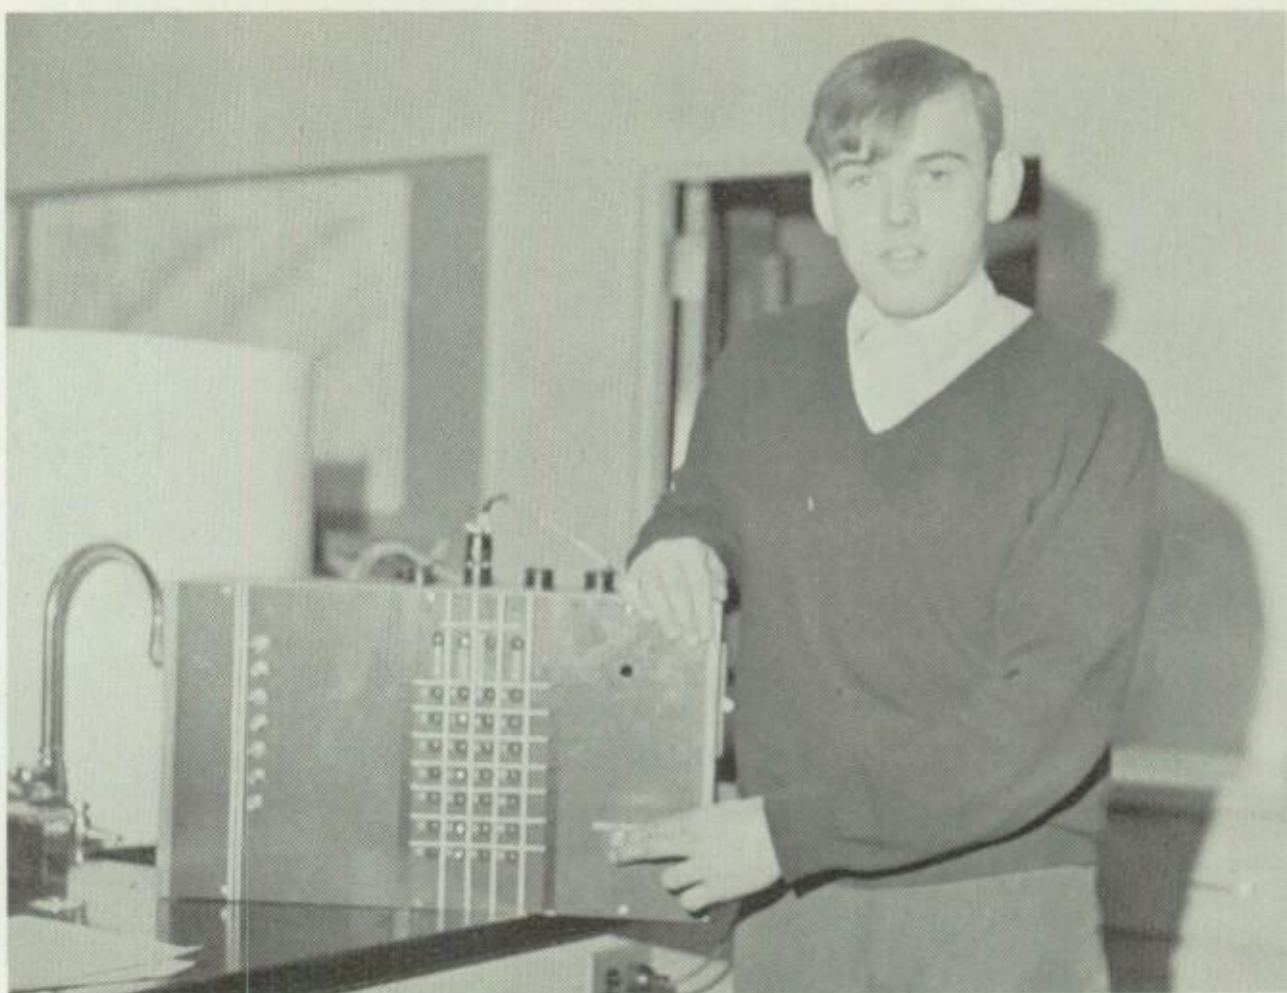

This Was the Year of . . .
Achievement

One of the Physics projects was an electric computer, constructed by Jon Ricker.

Scientific Minds Search for Facts

The science program, consisting of four sections —biology, physical science, chemistry, and physics, give students the opportunity to get a taste of some of these general areas.

Biology students explore the life of plants and animals. They learn through books or lab work and the dissection of frogs and fish.

The physical science course touches on many of the general areas of the science. They study geology, space, communications and astronomy. Special projects and demonstration give variety to the classes.

The chemistry classes study the composition of matter from the basic atomic structures to combination of elements as compounds. A portion of the course is set aside for organic chemistry, which mainly deals with hydrocarbons and also for lab work.

Physics is the science of matter and motion. Theoretical and practical relationships are taught in this class. Experiments dealing with the application of ideas learned in class provide visual results of the theories.

Mr. Jerry Pulliam and his Biology students observed the aquarium in their study of plant life.

Speech Training Brings Poise

The Speech classes, taught by Mr. Douglas Japinga, added to each student's poise in meeting people. Besides learning speech types and techniques, how to overcome stagefright, and parliamentary procedure, time was spent in the area of theatrics.

Mr. Japinga found the Opaque Projector an easy way to describe stage types.

Extra-credit in Speech was earned through speaking projects in other classes.

The Rodney B. Wilson High School Co-op program has expanded greatly. Students in business education are actually getting work experience.

Sponsors and girls in this program are: Delores Bauer, C.C. Soil Conservation; Vicki Courser, Central School; Elaine Curtis, Clinton Memorial Hospital; Darlene Dodway, Municipal Bldg.; Diana Griffith, Michigan Title Co.; Sharon Howe, Clinton Memorial Hospital; Sue Leonard, Clinton Memorial Hospital; Linda Lounds, Clinton National Bank; Carol Paksi, F. C. Mason Co.; Pam Roof, Clinton County News; Diana Sillman, St. Johns Public Schools; Suzanne Sillman, Central National Bank; Betty Smith, County Treasurer's Office; Kathy Smith, Municipal Bldg.; Nancy Steffens, Federal-Mogul; Delores Vitek, County Ext. Office; Darlene Wirth, Lundy Motors; Lois Zell, Chamber of Commerce.

Business Techniques Studi

SHORTHAND is part of the advanced training in the Commercial area.

Mr. Richard Kramer's bookkeeping students work on basic practice sets to gain additional education in the business field.

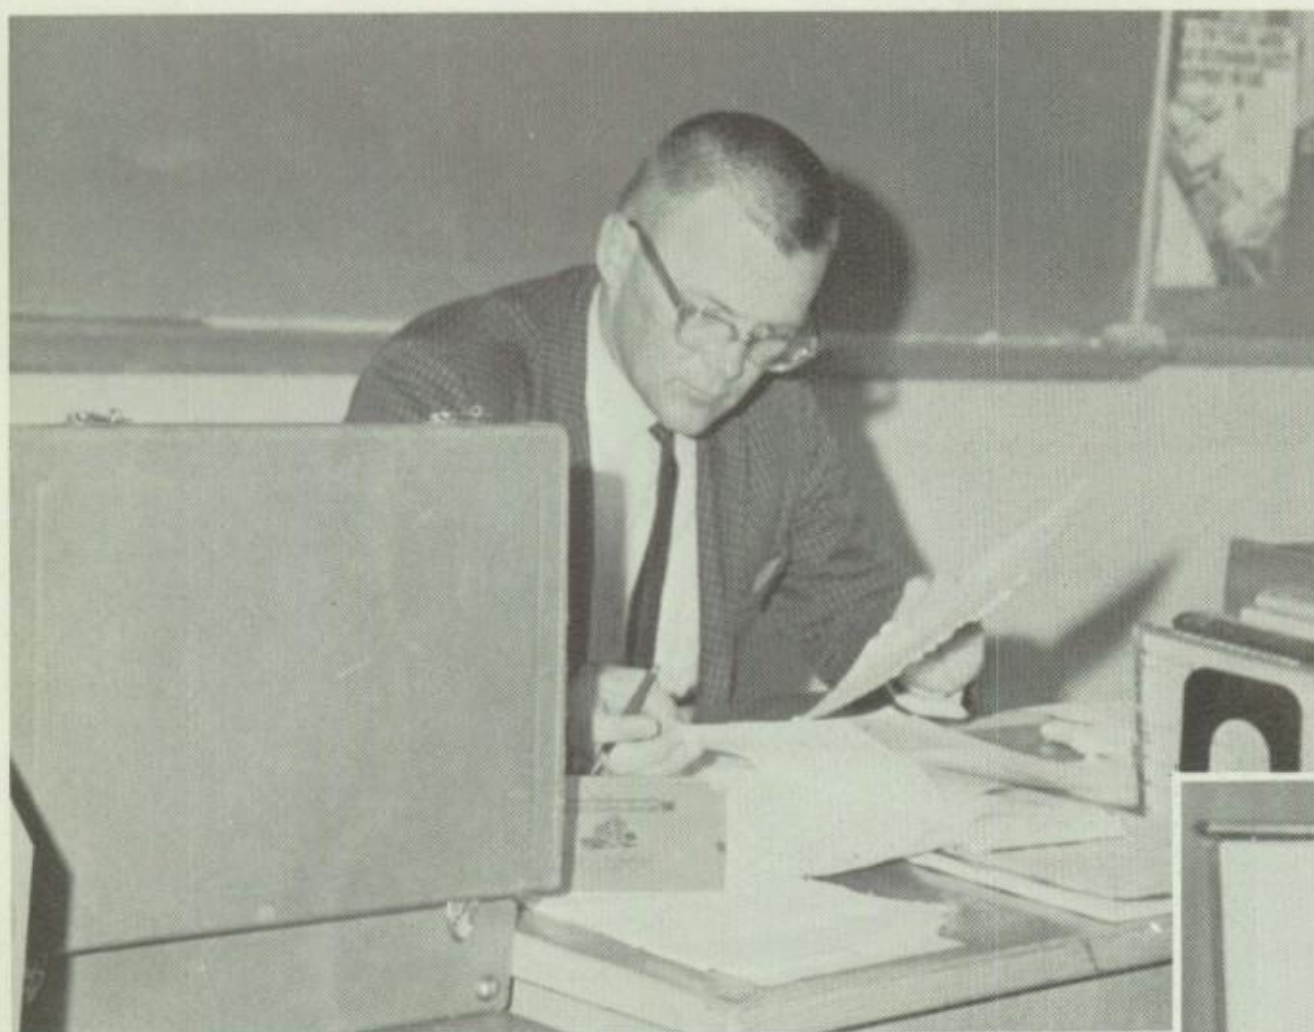

Mr. William Swears' second year class read books on law, bookkeeping and general office work.

Future Secretaries

Second year typing students work on legal papers.

During the year the Michigan State University Personnel Department administered employment tests and gave a preview of clerical employment possibilities at the University to the Advanced Typewriting Classes in the Spring. Some of the students are contacted as a result of this testing for employment at Michigan State.

MR. ARTHUR PETERSON stated that his goal was more than teaching; it was stimulating the minds of his students to want to learn more and more of the fascinating subject of mathematics.

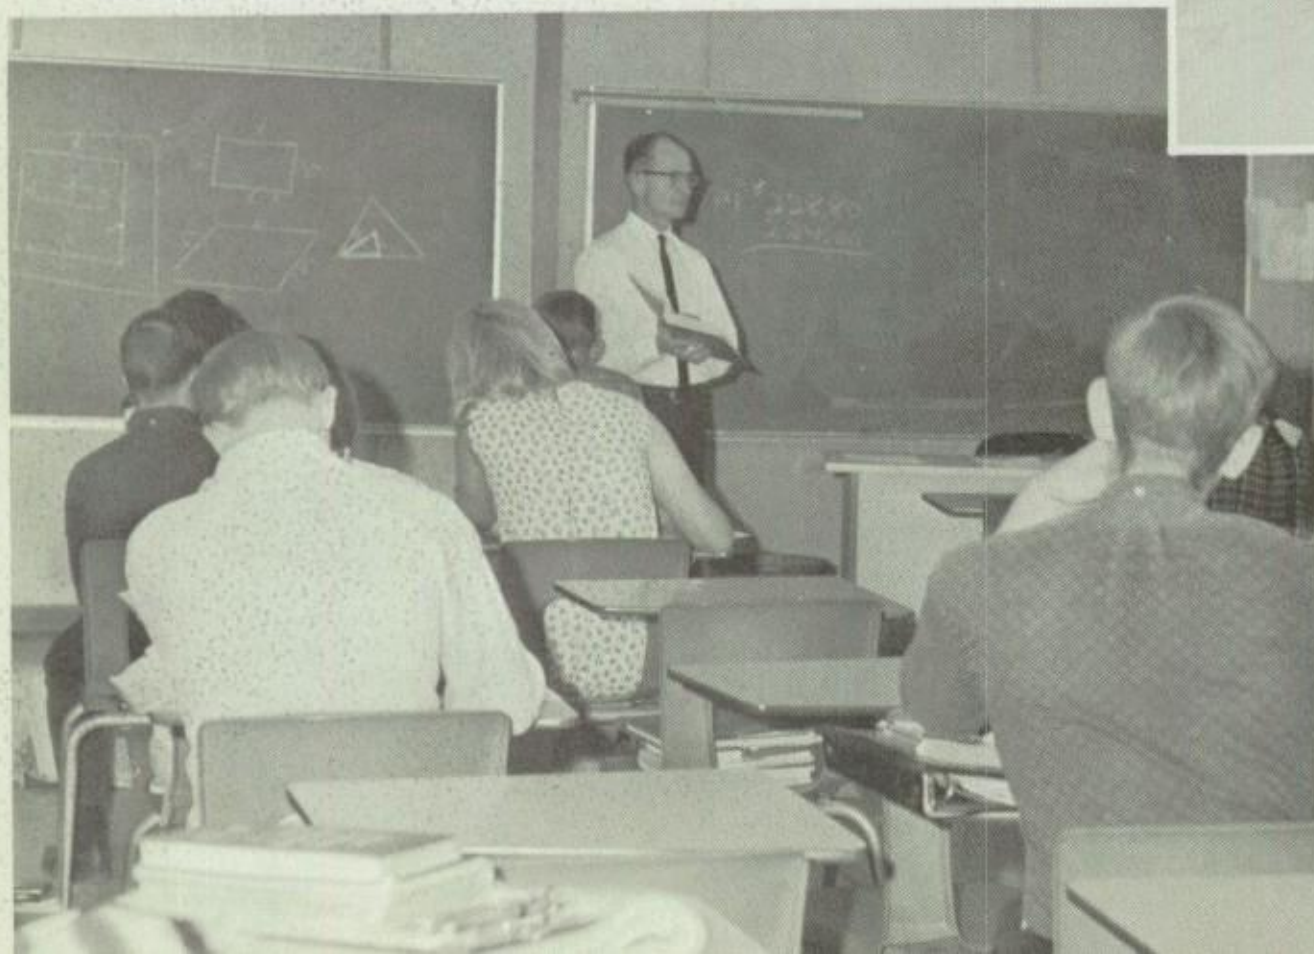

Logical Reasoning Basis for Math

Throughout the year math teachers have been feeding the minds of the young men and women who may some day be the scientists, engineers or, mathematicians of the future.

All of the math teachers are following the same line of reasoning. They are trying to help the students develop a clear and logical reasoning first and then teaching the basic structures for their departments.

MR. PAUL REPATH has been concerned with opening the eyes of the students to the well organized and logical systems of mathematics as is Mr. Spencer when he says there is a story behind every equation that comes from the reasoning and investigation necessary to understand the problem fully.

"MATHEMATICS, from its simplest form to the most abstract, is part of life," says Mr. Leslie Wesner.

Gym Classes Aim For Physical Fitness

Physical Education is a required course for all ninth and tenth graders taught by Mrs. Dzintra Brotz and Mr. William Brown. Physical fitness is the main goal stressed in the gym classes.

Some of the activities included bowling, basketball, volleyball, track, and field, archery, golf, tennis, tumbling, soccer, and softball. Something new for the girls was Swedish calisthenics.

SWEDISH GYMNASTICS were some of the body developing activities.

FRESHMAN DUANE THELEN shows outstanding ability by doing 410 push-ups.

World Needs Trained Hands

Technical Drawing introduces the student to the field of architecture. Junior and senior boys are offered this course. The students are acquainted with such skills as making blueprints, drawing geometrical constructions, and isometric and projection drawing. They also made blueprints of houses.

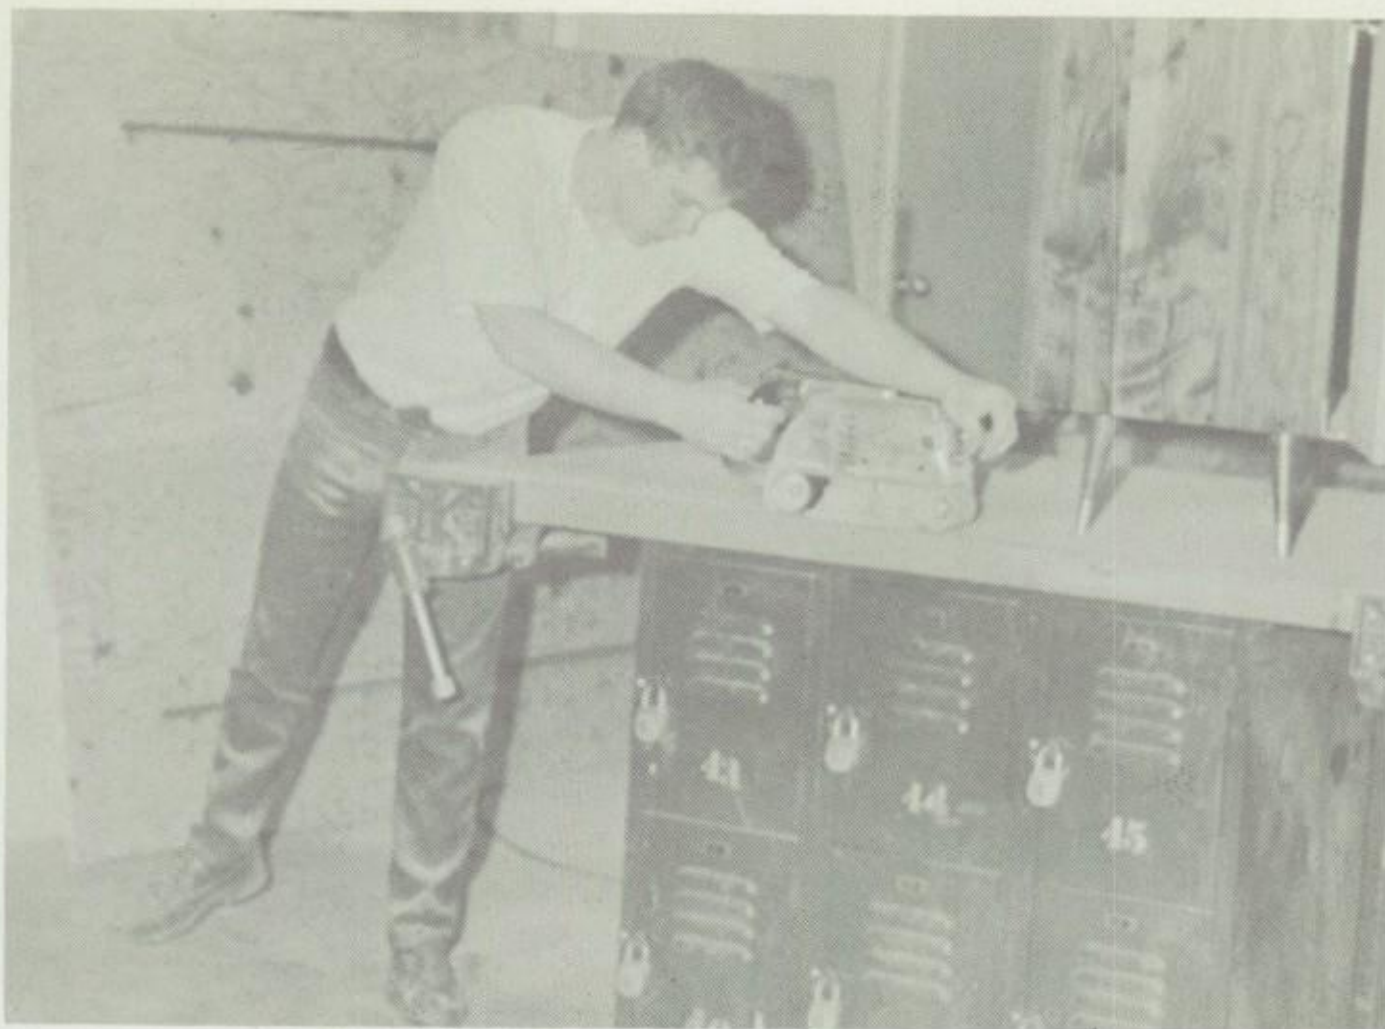

Ag classes give boys much basic training as well as keeping them aware of the newest developments in all phases of agriculture.

THESE SENIOR BOYS have retained their interest in ag and FFA

TECH DRAWING CLASS. Mr. Beagle give some needed advice.

Kurt Knight works with wood in one of the shop classes.

Shop Skills Strengthen Job Abilities

The Shop Department offers a four-year program for all boys. General shop is offered to all freshmen boys, who learn how to construct projects of wood and plastic. The operation of the basic shop tools is learned also. Some of the basic principles of geometrical construction, drawing, drafting, and architecture are taught.

A new program was introduced to the tenth grade shop students last year. They were given the opportunity to take wood shop for one semester and metal and mechanical shop during the second semester.

Farm shop is offered to the seniors. Hydraulic equipment was donated and some was purchased from Oldsmobile of Lansing.

Various projects are undertaken by shop students which teach skill in the use of equipment.

Doug Dubay and Roger Davis run through some humorous lines of "Twelfth Night."

English Necessary To Life Plans

Reading, writing, speaking, and listening were skills developed in English classes. Audio-visual aids developed appreciation for literature, drama, poetry, and skills needed in writing.

Mrs. Jane Knight, Reading Improvement Specialist, helps students improve their reading skills.

In the paperback library, students bring books from home to share with other Freshman English students.

Language Program Alive and Growing

This year the stress on foreign language was conversation. The first-year students in French and Spanish converse using dialogue. The students, along with their teachers, progress hoping to make the language a living thing.

In the Spanish-French area, the aural-oral approach was used. This entailed listening, repeating, and memorizing certain sentences. During the second year speaking and writing are continued with the focus on formal grammar. Third-year Spanish people study about S. America and Mexico, all in Spanish. With the introduction of a fourth year in Spanish set for 1967-68, the history, geography, and culture of Spain will be studied.

One of the highlights of the year was the trip to Mexico with plans going forward for a repeat trip next year. French students hope to journey to Quebec.

For students interested in discovering where some of the English vocabulary originated and for students interested in ancient Roman culture, there is a Latin program. The first-year Latin approach is similar to the aural-oral. Students listen, memorize, repeat, and write sentences. The second year students learn history and culture along with dialogue.

READING and translation of Latin is task for students of Mr. Phillip Greer.

MR. ROBERT LABRIE stimulates students in conversational French.

SPANISH STUDENTS aim for correct pronunciation with Mrs. JoAnne Osborne's help.

A MEMBER of the Art II Class, Dorothy Evitts receives advice from Jerry Lewis as she hurries to finish her last project.

Art Develops Creativity

Art is often referred to as a quality of mind, heart, and hand. This year's Art Department was no exception. Under the leadership of Mr. James Bargar, Art I and II students continued in a program of instructive and creative study.

Art I classes started the year by learning the basic elements of color and design and how to apply them to assorted media. The year was concluded with the construction of different shaped and colored mobiles.

The experienced Art II students enjoyed a year of new artistic adventures. At the conclusion of the first semester they were assigned five projects due at the end of school year. Each student gained a sense of responsibility and personal satisfaction from working independently.

A means of artistic creativity is given to the community through Mr. Bargar's adult classes.

Mrs. Wirick presents a demonstration lesson.

Girls Learn Fundamentals of Homemaking

Besides cooking and sewing, the Home Ec classes learned Child Care, Money Management, Meals, Nutrition, and Personal Health.

The senior girls studied a course in Red Cross after which many of the girls received their Red Cross certificates.

A certain amount of book work is required in the Homemaking area.

Journalism Expands

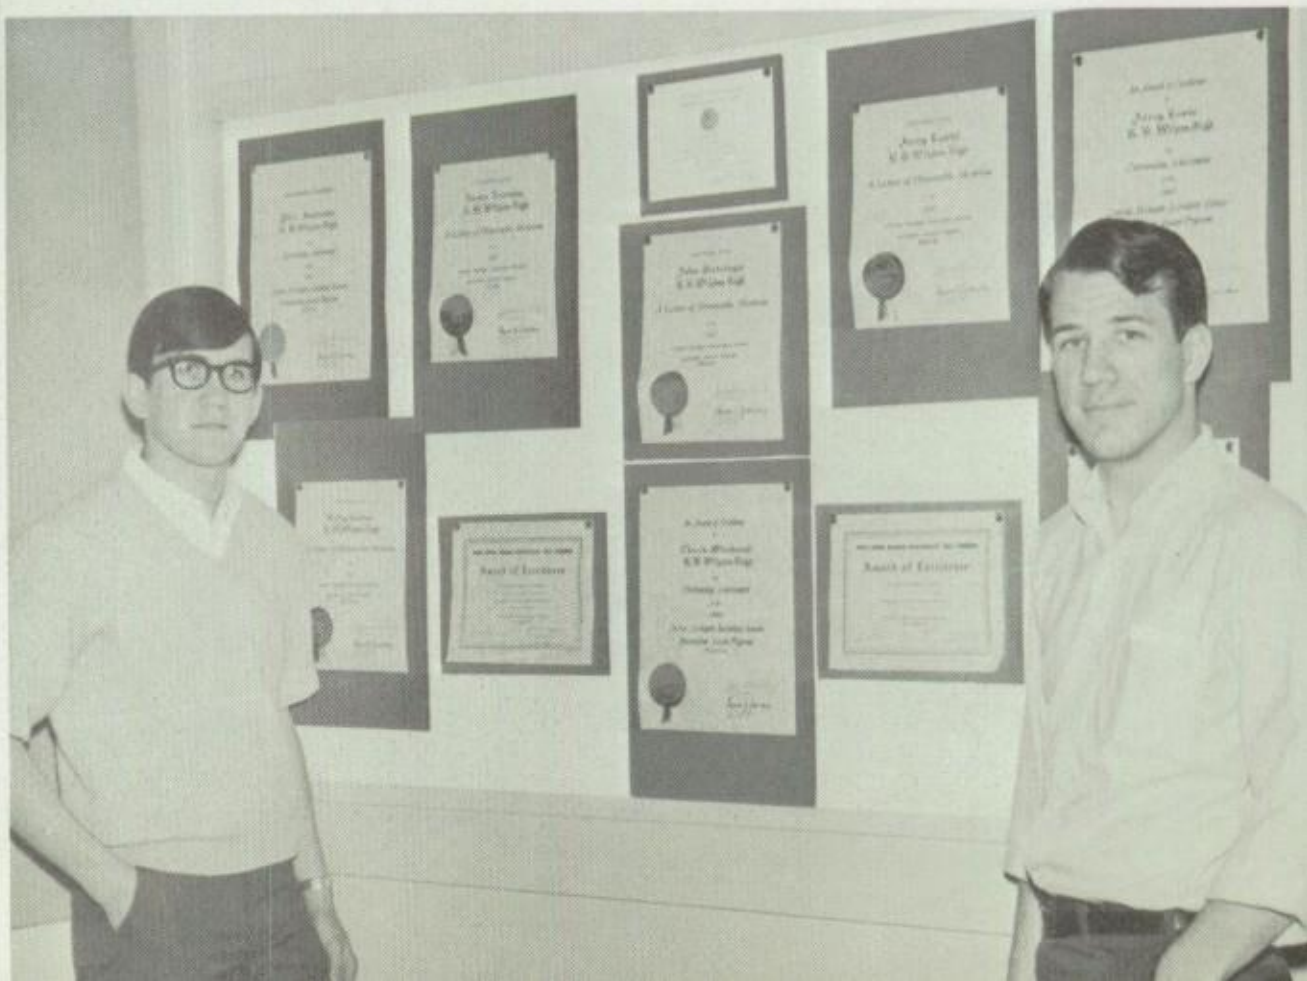

The Wilson Torch, put out every two weeks by the Journalism Staff, informs the student body of all the school news. Student journalists do all the work on the paper. This year the paper won two certificate Awards of Excellence from North Central Michigan Interscholastic Press Conference and a second place certificate from Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

Individual writing honors were awarded to the following people. Awards of Excellence in photography to Phil Anderson, in Editorial writing to Chuck Stockwell, and in feature writing to Jerry Lewis. Honorable mention in Editorial writing went to Kathy Bashore and Judy Williams, in News writing to Duane Downing and in sports writing to John Gretzinger and Jerry Lewis.

Sue Warstler, junior member of the Torch Staff, accepts the Award of Excellence from the head of the Journalism Department of Central Michigan University.

Co-Editor Duane Downing and Editor Chuck Stockwell display awards won by the Torch and its reporters.

The youthful actors and actresses, led by Raymond Kinney and Andrea Boyce, join the cast in the production number Iowa.

The entire play led to the finale where the Ninth Grade Band played Seventy-Six Trombones.

'Music Man' Plays to Overflow Crowds

"Music Man", Meredith Wilson's hit musical, was the show chosen by the Music Department. The magnitude of this production was an indication of the expansion taking place in Musical drama at Rodney B. "The Music Man", the story of a fast talking salesman who swindles an Iowan town by selling them band instruments, starred Phil Anderson and Monica Hatta and was given May 4, 5, and 6 to three full houses. The show was well received by all the audiences and the final night audience ended the six weeks of hard work on a happy note with a standing ovation.

The play was under the general direction of Mr. Gordon Vandemark, the head of the vocal music department, with Chuck Stockwell in charge of dramatic direction. Over one hundred students from both instrumental and vocal music department participated in the show led by five teachers. Other teachers were: Miss Beverly Hall, dramatic direction; Mr. Walter Cole, and Mr. Gordon Gillette, instrumental music; Mr. James Barger, scenery.

The Barbershop Quartet formed from the quarrelsome school board, highlighted many scenes.

65 Qualify for Symphonic Band

After marching season is over, the band breaks down into two groups. Members for the two bands are chosen according to the quality of playing, judged through tryouts for chair positions.

The symphonic band played at two concerts.

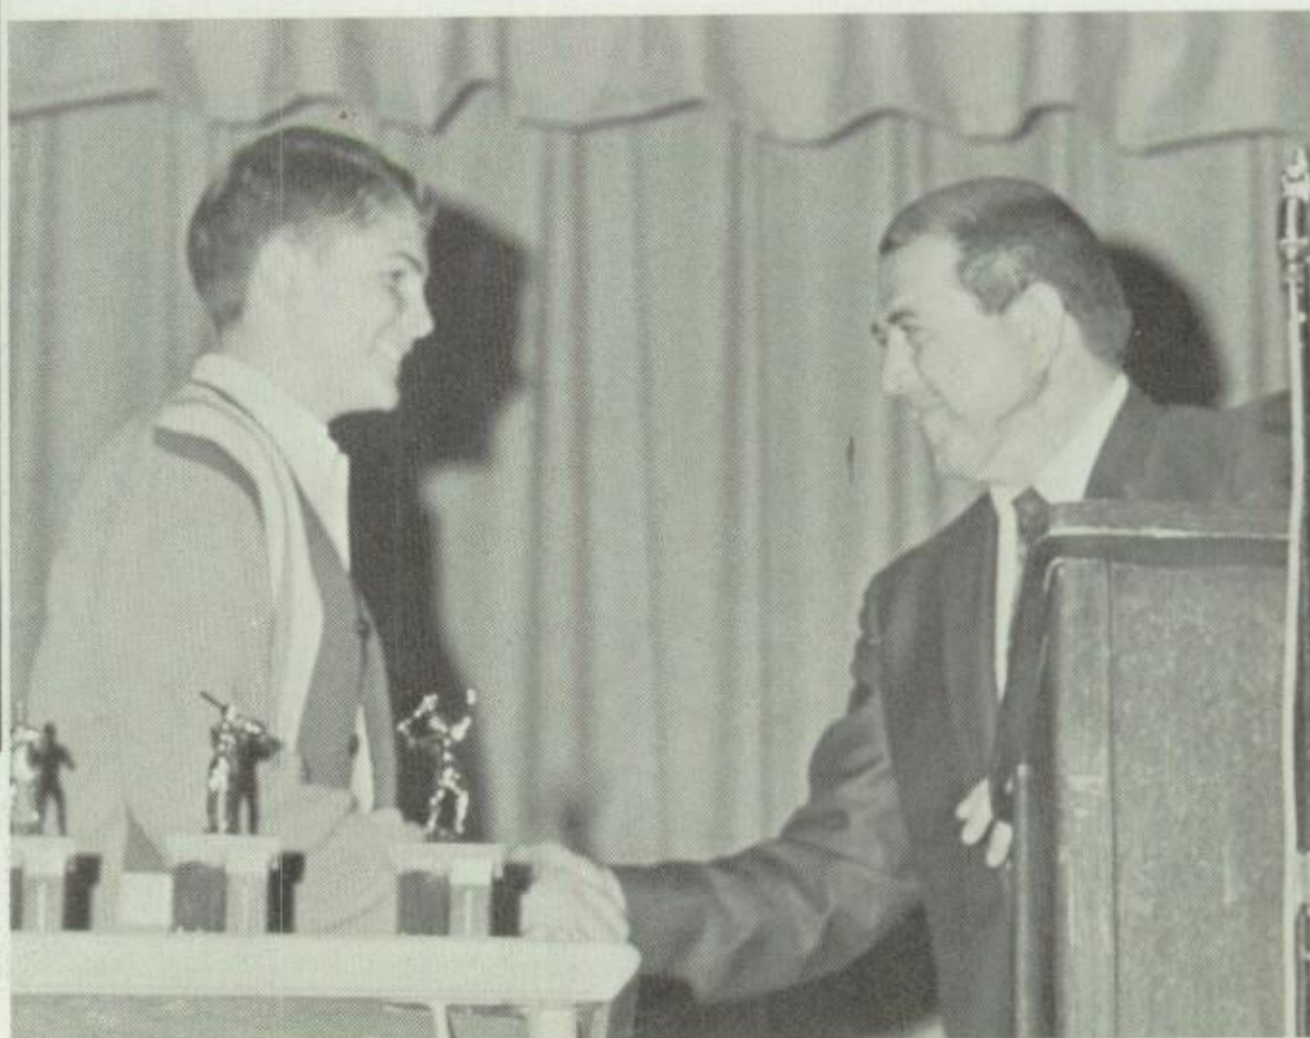

The winter concert and annual Spring Concert "The Bands in Review," exhibited an excellent showing of well-trained groups of musicians.

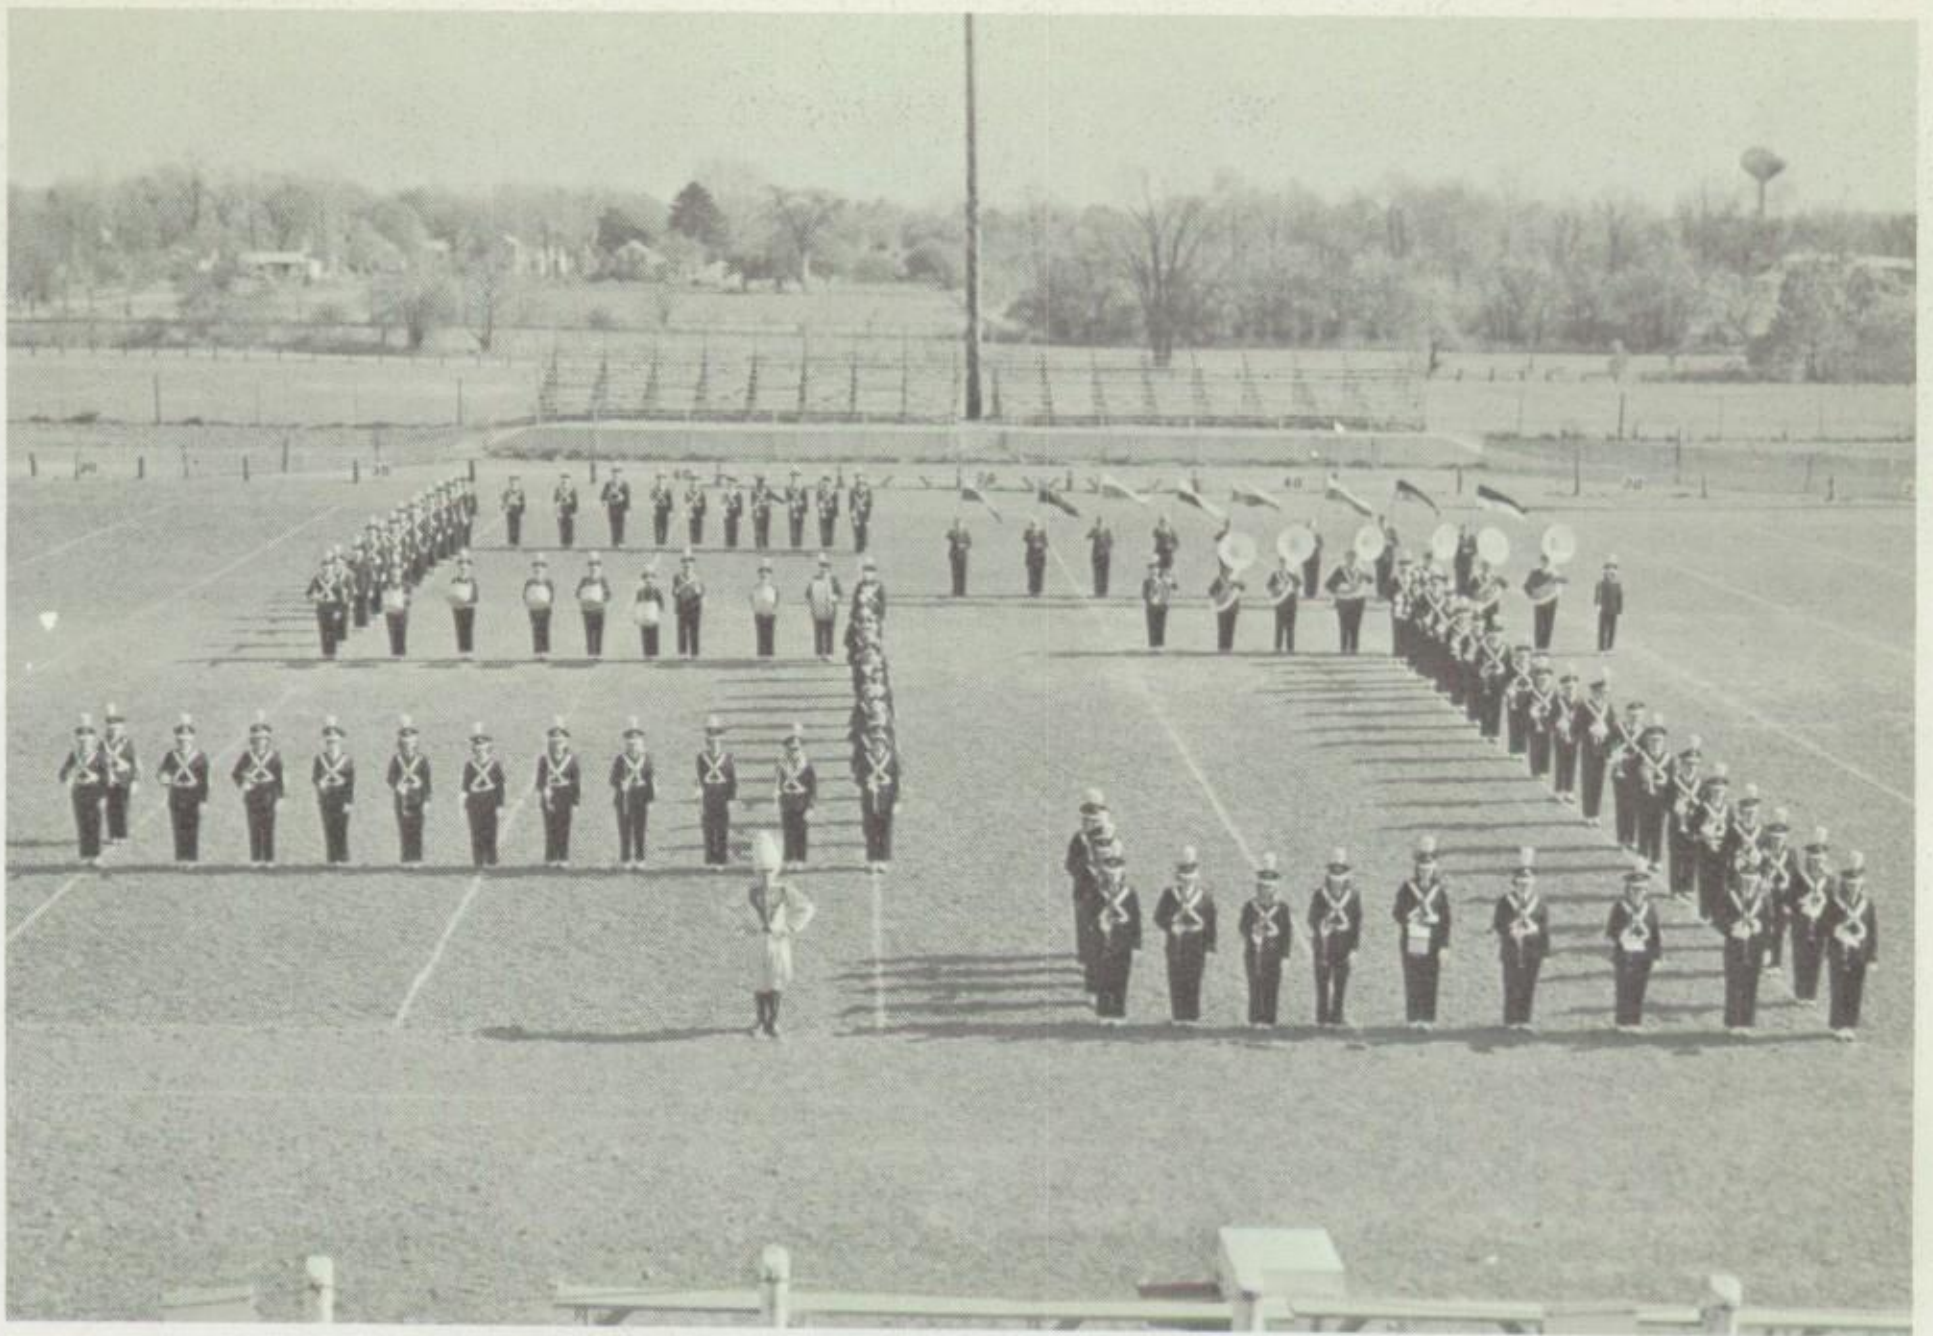

Several members of the bands performed in the Solo and Ensemble Festival.

CARLA MOTZ, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Motz, was the recipient of the John Philip Sousa Award. A member of the Symphonic Band, Carla was named to the All-Star Band both her Junior and Senior years.

TOM FOWLER received the award for the Most Promising Freshman Music Student from Mr. Walter Cole.

THE MARCHING BAND enjoyed a season of enthusiasm from the members and their audiences.

Marchers Show Skills

DRUM MAJOR Scott Heibeck, center, was assisted in leading the band by Majorettes Judy Fox and Marilyn Motz.

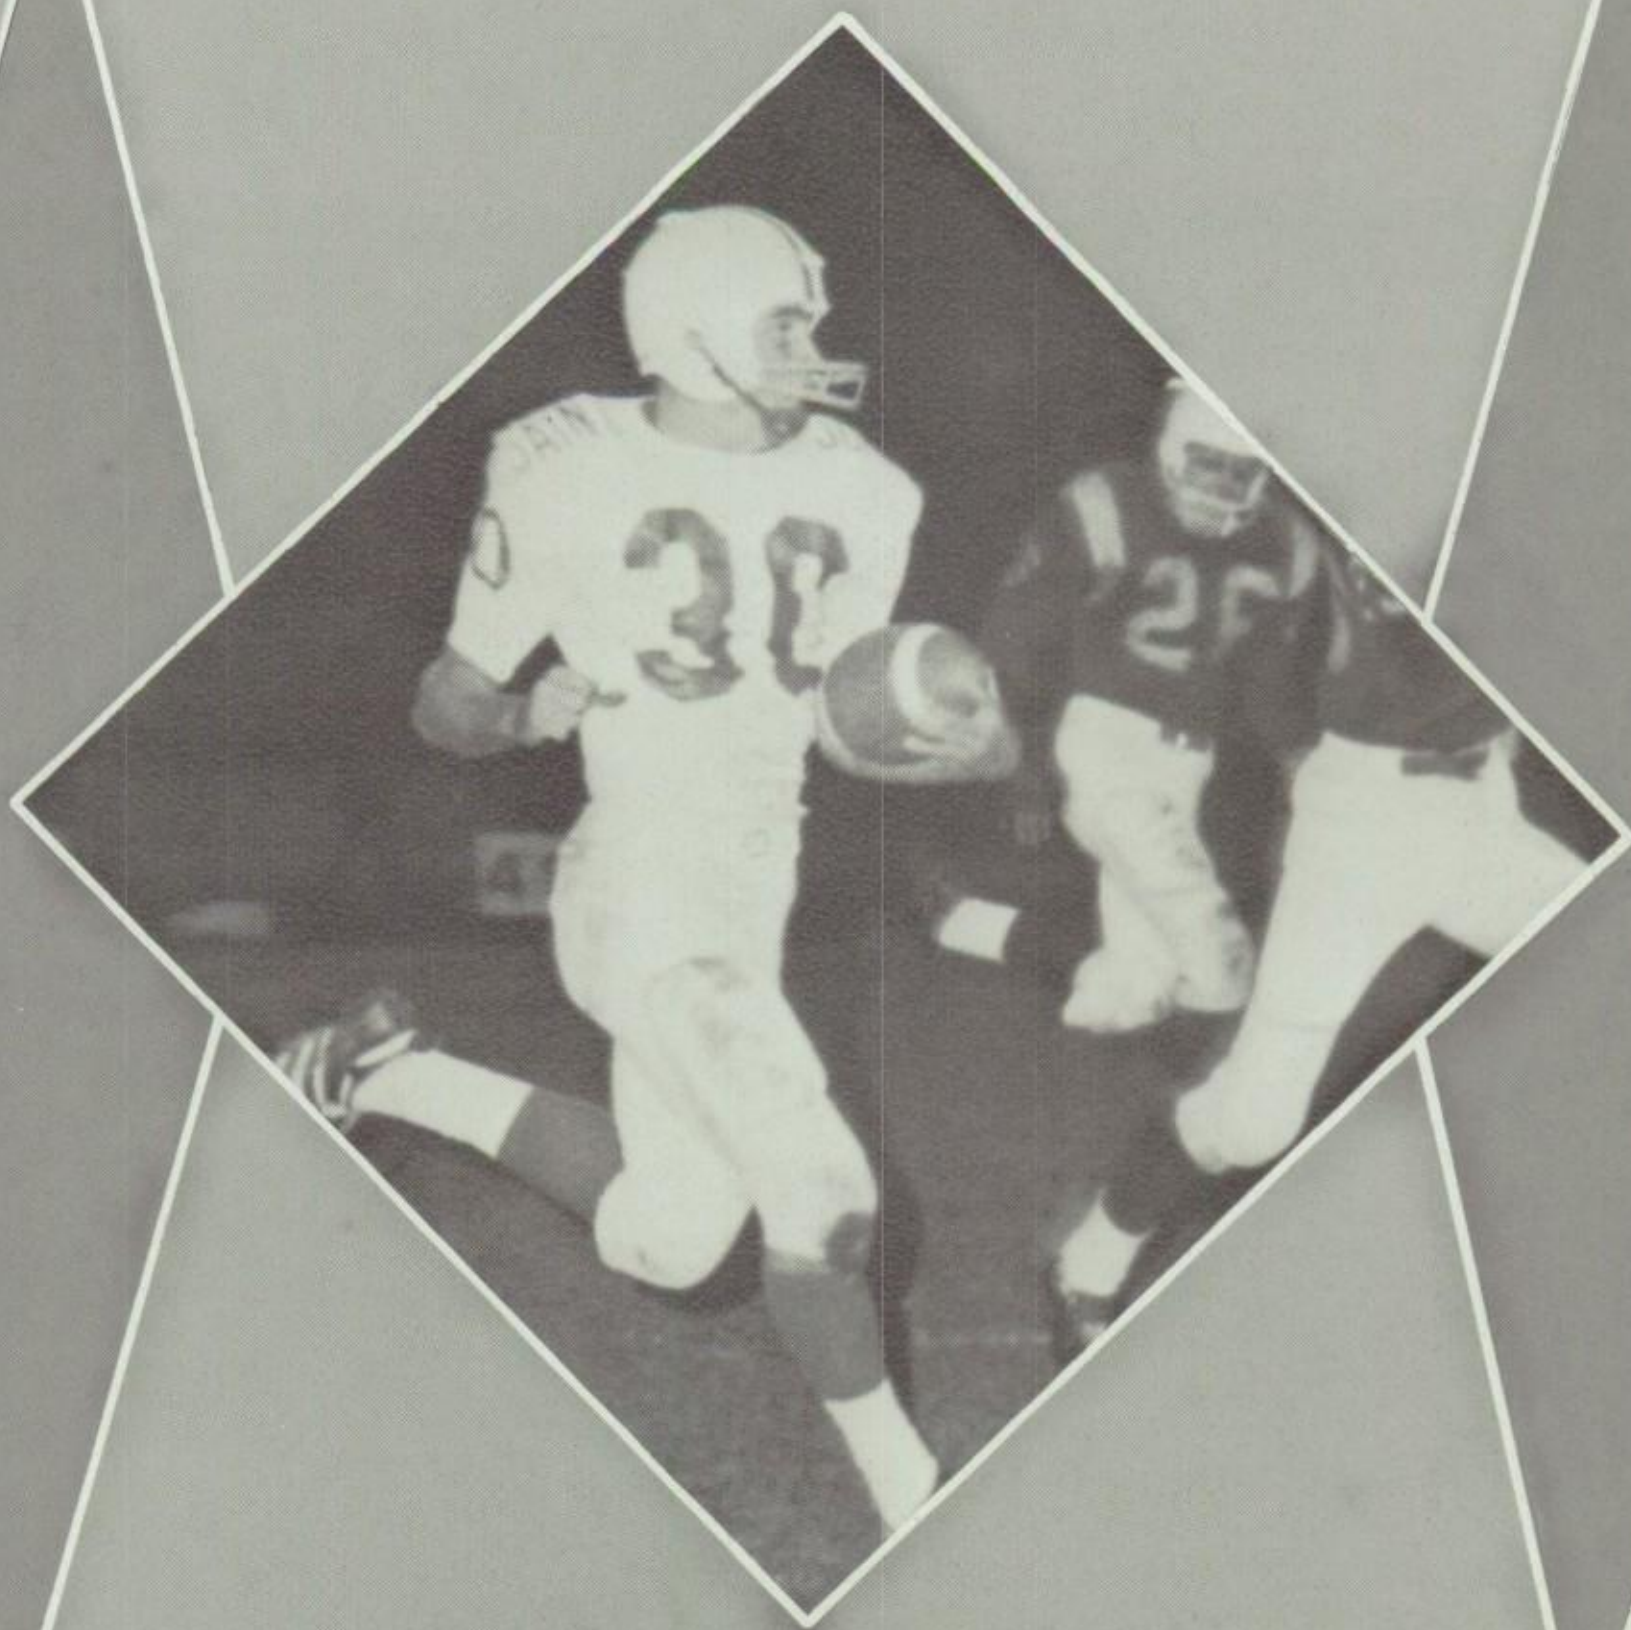

The Redwing Marching Band participated in varied functions during the school year. They traveled to the Chesaning Marching Festival and were active in the Holland Tulip Festival where they received top honors.

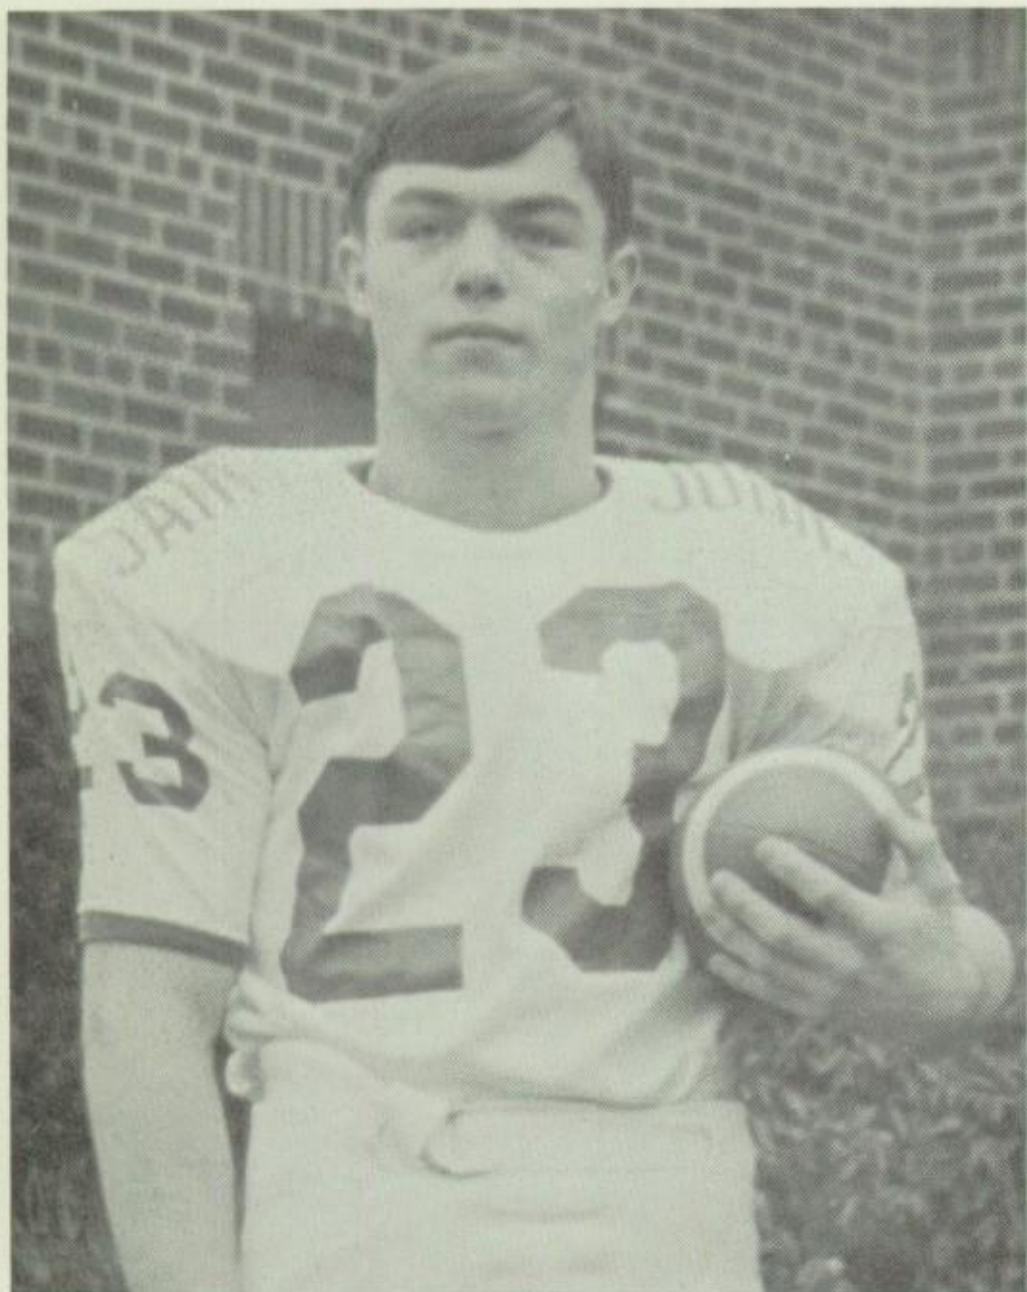

The band put on shows for the home football games and finished the year marching in the local Memorial Day parade.

This Was the Year of . . .
Determination

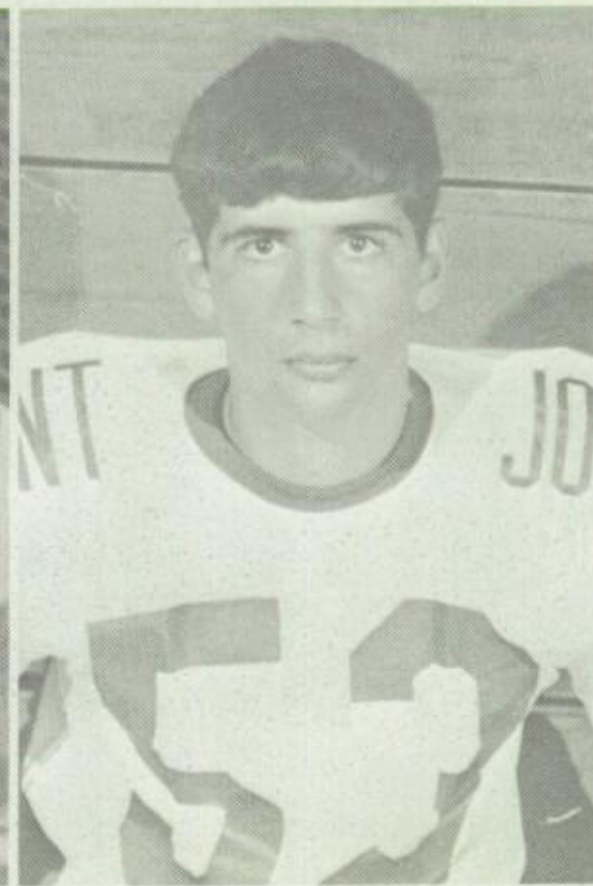

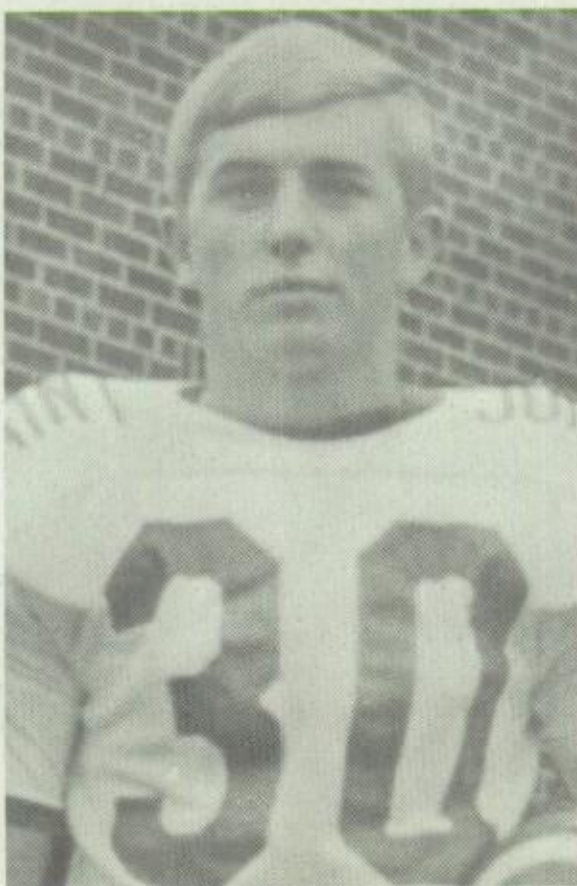

Redwings Gain Conference Championship

The 1966-67 Redwing Varsity Football Team will go down in the history of the school as perhaps the best team Rodney B. ever had.

The Redwings maintained a high rating on various press polls throughout the season, due to the great team-work set forth by all of the boys. The team proudly brought home the West Central Conference title, placed one on the All-State squad, and four on the All-Conference first team, with five named to the second team.

Halfback Gary Boyce, 5'7, 157 lbs., was the leading ground gainer in St. Johns' history as well as its second leading scorer; totaling 154 points with over 1500 yards in offense. Because of his fine showing all through the season, he was chosen for a position on the first team of the All-State Team.

ALL CONFERENCE honors went to Terry Thurston, Randy Humphrey, Rick Liszewski, as well as Boyce. Named to the second team were Craig Knight and Tim Spitzley, seniors, and Norm Love, a junior. Junior Terry Hart, and Sophomore Mike Green gained honorable mention.

"Get in there and play ball," shouts Coach Smiley.

'Action' Tells Redwing Story

Gary Boyce is smothered by Ovid-Elsie players as Terry Hart attempts to help.

Coaching Experience Pays Dividends

Throughout the football season the Varsity and Junior Varsity teams worked under the direction and leadership of a six-man coaching staff. Standing are Doug Japinga, Head Coach of the Junior Varsity for six years; Varsity Head Coach for six years Bill Smiley; and Varsity Assistant Coach for five years Frank Rosengren. Kneeling are the Junior Varsity Assistant Coaches Tom Wilson—four years; Bill Brown—two years; and Hub Waite—one year.

Mike Green carries the ball on an end run.

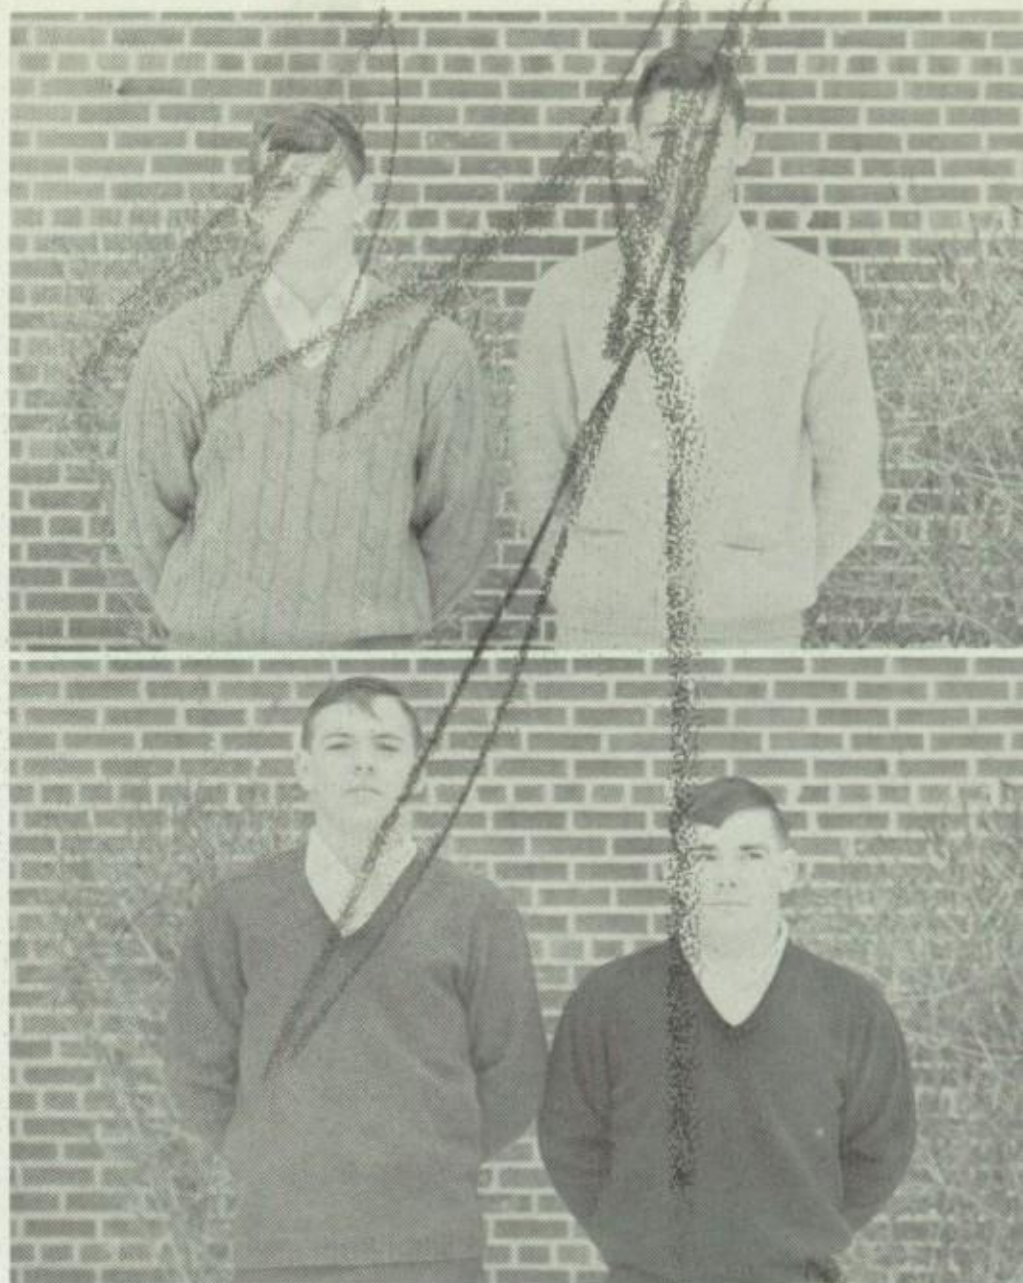

Season Ends 4-3 In Conference

After winning the first game against Mason, a non-conference team, the Junior Varsity sustained its first loss in 25 games.

However, the JV's ended their season with a 5-3 record. After three consecutive losses, Coach Douglas Japinga managed to lead his team to victories in the remaining four games.

Varsity Cagers End Season on High Note

Bill DeGroot goes high off floor for quick shot.

The Redwing Varsity cagers went through what is called a "rebuilding" year but still managed to salvage some glory despite a poor record.

The season started out on a good note as the Wings beat Ovid-Elsie in the opening game, but cheers turned to tears as the boys fell in the next five games.

As the season progressed the cagers began to jell on the court, but couldn't get up the steam needed for several victories. The regular season ended on a sad note as Ionia tripped the Wings 61-60 in the final seconds.

But all was not lost. The District tournament still remained, although St. Johns was given little hope against the tough Alma team. But what saved the season and the honor of past St. Johns teams was the heroic battle the Redwings put up. Not only did they stay even with Alma throughout the game, they actually led by three points with two minutes left in the game! But Alma rallied to tie the score at the end of regulation play and forced the game into one of two overtimes, with Alma finally emerging victorious 82-81. Despite the loss, the Wings ended the season on a high note; it was a team to be proud of.

Council Innovates Programs

Under the leadership of Chuck Stockwell, the Student Council brought many changes to the usually routine life at Rodney B.

First on the list of activities was the assignment of dances and concessions. During the football season, spirit tags were sold, the spirit bell and jug were introduced, and Homecoming was expanded in cooperation with the Senior Class and the Chamber of Commerce.

The annual magazine drive brought a profit of $1,506.35.

The Council changed Freshman initiation and the prom system, and sponsored the first annual Christmas Ball.

Other new projects were holding all-school meetings with the Council, sponsoring the weekly teen show on WRBJ Radio, and publishing a monthly newsletter. A $300 scholarship fund was set up for students going abroad on an educational program. An auditorium fund was started with a $200 contribution to improve the facilities of the stage. A new record player was furnished for the dances.

The Council presented and had approved three amendments to the Student Council Constitution.

Bob Showers takes his turn at spinning records on the weekly teen show on WRBJ Radio.

MR. RAYMOND PARR, President of the Board of Education, receives the smiling approval of the Administration, Board Members, and Student Council as he turns the first spadeful of dirt at the Ground-Breaking Ceremony for the new high school.

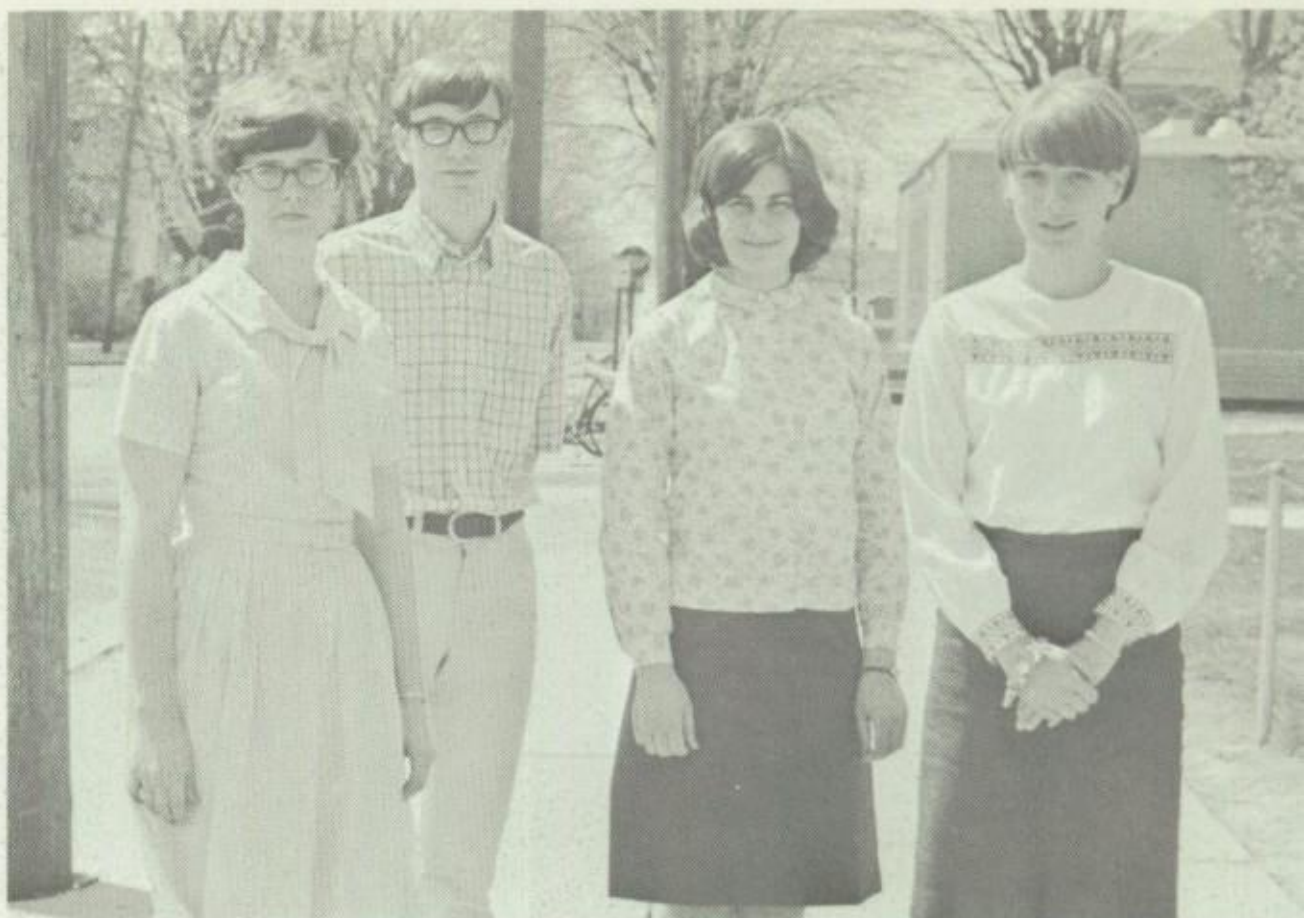

As the bids were lower than expected it was possible to include all facilities in the architect's plans.

The student body was asked to submit names for the new school with the Board making the final decision. At press time no decision had been made.

COUNCIL PRESIDENT CHUCK STOCKWELL presents the Spirit Jug to Chuck Romig, Sophomore class president, during one of the pep assemblies. The Sophomore class, winning two of the contests, was the only class to win the jug from the Seniors. The Senior class of '67, because of the majority of wins, had its name inscribed on the jug and the jug was put into the trophy case.

FTA DELEGATES. Dee Ann Gill, Delegate Assembly; Jim Salisbury and Pat Fox, Washington D.C. Seminar; Janean Geller, Delegate Assembly.

The Future Teachers Club held meetings every second Monday. Various topics; such as, "college requirements for teaching" were discussed. Student teachers expressed their views about teaching.

Two students, Dee Ann Gill and Janean Geller, were selected to attend the Michigan FTA delegate assembly in Lansing. Pat Fox and Jim Salisbury were chosen to attend the FTA Seminar in Washington D.C. Michigan is the only state which participates in the statewide program of sending delegates to this meeting. The club attended workshops at Michigan State, Central, and Western Universities.

FTA members sold mums for Homecoming and were in charge of an after-game dance.

Library Club Hosts Shi-Gra-Ton

Learning library science was the principle goal of the Library Club under the direction of Mrs. Nancy Horst. Much of their time was spent doing the occupational file and decorating bulletin boards.

On April 25, the Shi-gra-ton meeting was held. "Librarians of Tomorrow" was the topic discussed by the group of library assistants from Shiawassee, Gratiot, and Clinton Counties.

The speaker for the Shi-Gra-Ton meeting was Miss Catherine O'Connell, the Reference Librarian at Central Michigan University.

Activities Help Community Betterment

During the year, the Future Homemakers of America Club sponsored various activities which helped in the betterment of the community. Their main project was a clothing drive in which they collected clothing for the needy people. Other projects included the UNICEF drive from which they collected nearly $200; the Tea for the faculty and administration, and Christmas caroling around the town.

RED ROSES accented the decorations for the spring tea served to faculty members.

Future Farmers Rate High In Welfare Industry

In the United States, people educated in Agriculture are of most importance to the industry. The Future Farmers of America club helps to develop skills among its members while teaching them the tricks of farming and how to turn them into a productive career.

One of the main activities of the Future Farmers of America was their annual donkey basketball game. The proceeds from this event were used to help sponsor the steer project which the farmers embarked upon this year.

New Club Attracts Thirty Members

The Commercial Club, newly formed this year, is for students who are planning to make a career in some phase of business.

The members participated in such activities as a tour of the Federal Mogal Corporation business offices, attended a convention at Eastern Michigan University, and took a trip to Ferris State College.

They saw a new IBM teletype machine at Federal Mogul. Two members saw an "error free" typewriter at Eastern Michigan University when they attended a Business Club Convention there.

At Ferris the Club was taken on a tour of the campus and later the faculty held a discussion about courses and requirements for business training.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE STUDENTS. Bill Lesser, Isabel Pliego, and Oscar Esnarriaga from Mexico; Michael Ask, from Sweden; and Mali Schreiber, from Germany, enjoy some of the American Christmas customs.

Rodney B. Hosts Five Exchange Students

Rodney B. had the privilege of hosting five foreign exchange students in 1966-67. Bill Lesser, Isabel Pliego, and Oscar Esnarriaga came from Mexico and spent two months here. One of the comments made by them was "We like America's fast pace of living." Certainly all twenty students from St. Johns who visited Mexico during spring vacation will agree that Mexico too, has a fast pace of living.

Bill lived with the Fred Lewis family, Isabel with the Ronald Motz family, and Oscar with the Harry DeVore family.

Mikael Ask from Sweden lived the year with the Roy Davis family. His interests included singing, playing guitar and piano.

Mali Schreiber, from Germany, lived the year with the Ray Parr family. Her main interest was music; and she played flute, violin, and french horn.

Chicago Trip Brings Exciting Experiences

During the year 1966-67 the Science Club was led by John Burnham, president; Doug Blizzard, vice-president; Linda DeVore, secretary; and Ed Lublow, treasurer.

The main event of the year was a trip to Chicago during spring vacation. The club toured the Museum of Science and Industries while there. In order to raise the funds necessary to finance the trip, the Science Club sponsored an after-game dance and game concessions.

AT THE MUSEUM of Science in Chicago, club members visited an underground coal mine. There is a model of a man working in the mine.

Club Relives Roman Life

The Junior Classical League, consisting of eighteen second year students and twenty-one first year students, held their annual slave auction in the fall.

A Christmas party was enjoyed and in the spring the annual banquet took place. The first year members were dressed as Roman slaves and the second year students and faculty members were their guests. Acts were put on between courses of the Roman meal.

DRESSED IN ROMAN STYLE TOGAS, Sandy Masarik, Sandy Kramer, and Paul Speerbrecker portray the ancient Romans.

Inexperience Brings Low Ratings

Due to the lack of experience, the Debate Club was not very successful, ending the season with a 1-11 score.

All members but one were new this year, with Kathy Corkin having debated for two years.

The district and regional meets were not attended because of the snow.

Club Develops Dramatic Interests

One of the special activities that the Drama Club participated in, was the Drama Day at Michigan State. The Michigan State Players presented the play, "Arsenic and Old Lace."

The Club put on make-up for the plays and put on a skit later in the year.

The officers were: President Marilyn Motz, Vice-President Tom Smith, Secretary Nancy MacLuckie, and Treasurer Jerry Lewis.

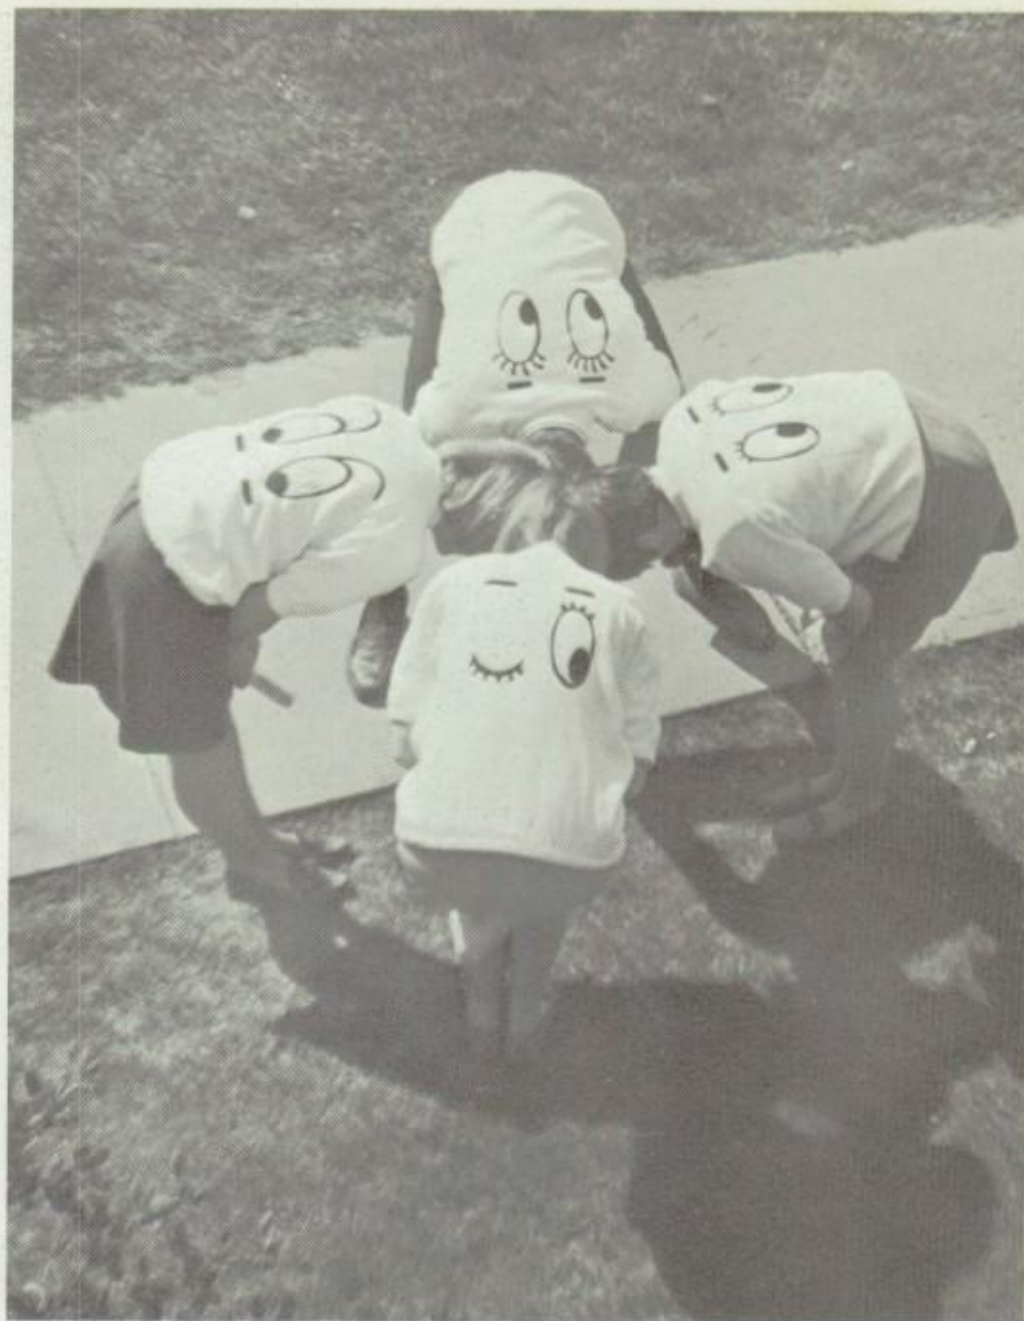

Make-up, one of the responsibilities of the Drama Club, is practiced here by Marilynn Motz and Tom Smith. Jane Morriss volunteered to be the guinea pig.

Second Year Brings Membership Gain

The officers of the Art Club were: President Gay Bond, Vice-President John Salemi, Secretary Judy Williams, Treasurer Dorothy Evitts.

One of their money-making projects was the selling of sweatshirts. The Art Club decorated and personalized them with eyeballs on the back and their names on the front.

The club served many of the school's other organizations by making posters, programs, and scenery.

STARTLED OBSERVERS might have thought that members of the Art Club had a strange way of looking for UFOs. However, these sweat shirts were another unique way of earning money.

Students Provide Services to School

Thirty-three girls make up the Usher's Club. In order to receive their certificate in their senior year, each member must serve as an usher for at least six functions.

The club attended the play "The Music Man" put on by the Ionia High School and the annual picnic was held in the spring.

Pins for the girls were furnished by the Student Council.

HALL MONITORS: Karen Dean, Charlene Kus, Tom Nemcik, and Steve Bauer. Not pictured: Ken Jakus and Vicki Paseka. These people greet all visitors and give them directions if needed. They check all hall passes and keep the halls free of unnecessary travel.

UN VIAJE A MEXICO. Kathy Schafer, Kendra Harper, Gary Boyce, Bob Showers, Scott Heibeck, and Sue Downing pose with some souvenirs after returning from their eight-day trip to Mexico. Others who went were Randy Humphrey, Marcia Parr, Sally Ward, Chuck Romig, Lexa Swatman, Carla Motz, Janean Geller, Linda Spousta, Chris Stevenson, Jeff Geller, Charles Kehr, Kathy Cornell, Gary Curtis, Woody Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Cory Vance, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert LaBrie, sponsors.

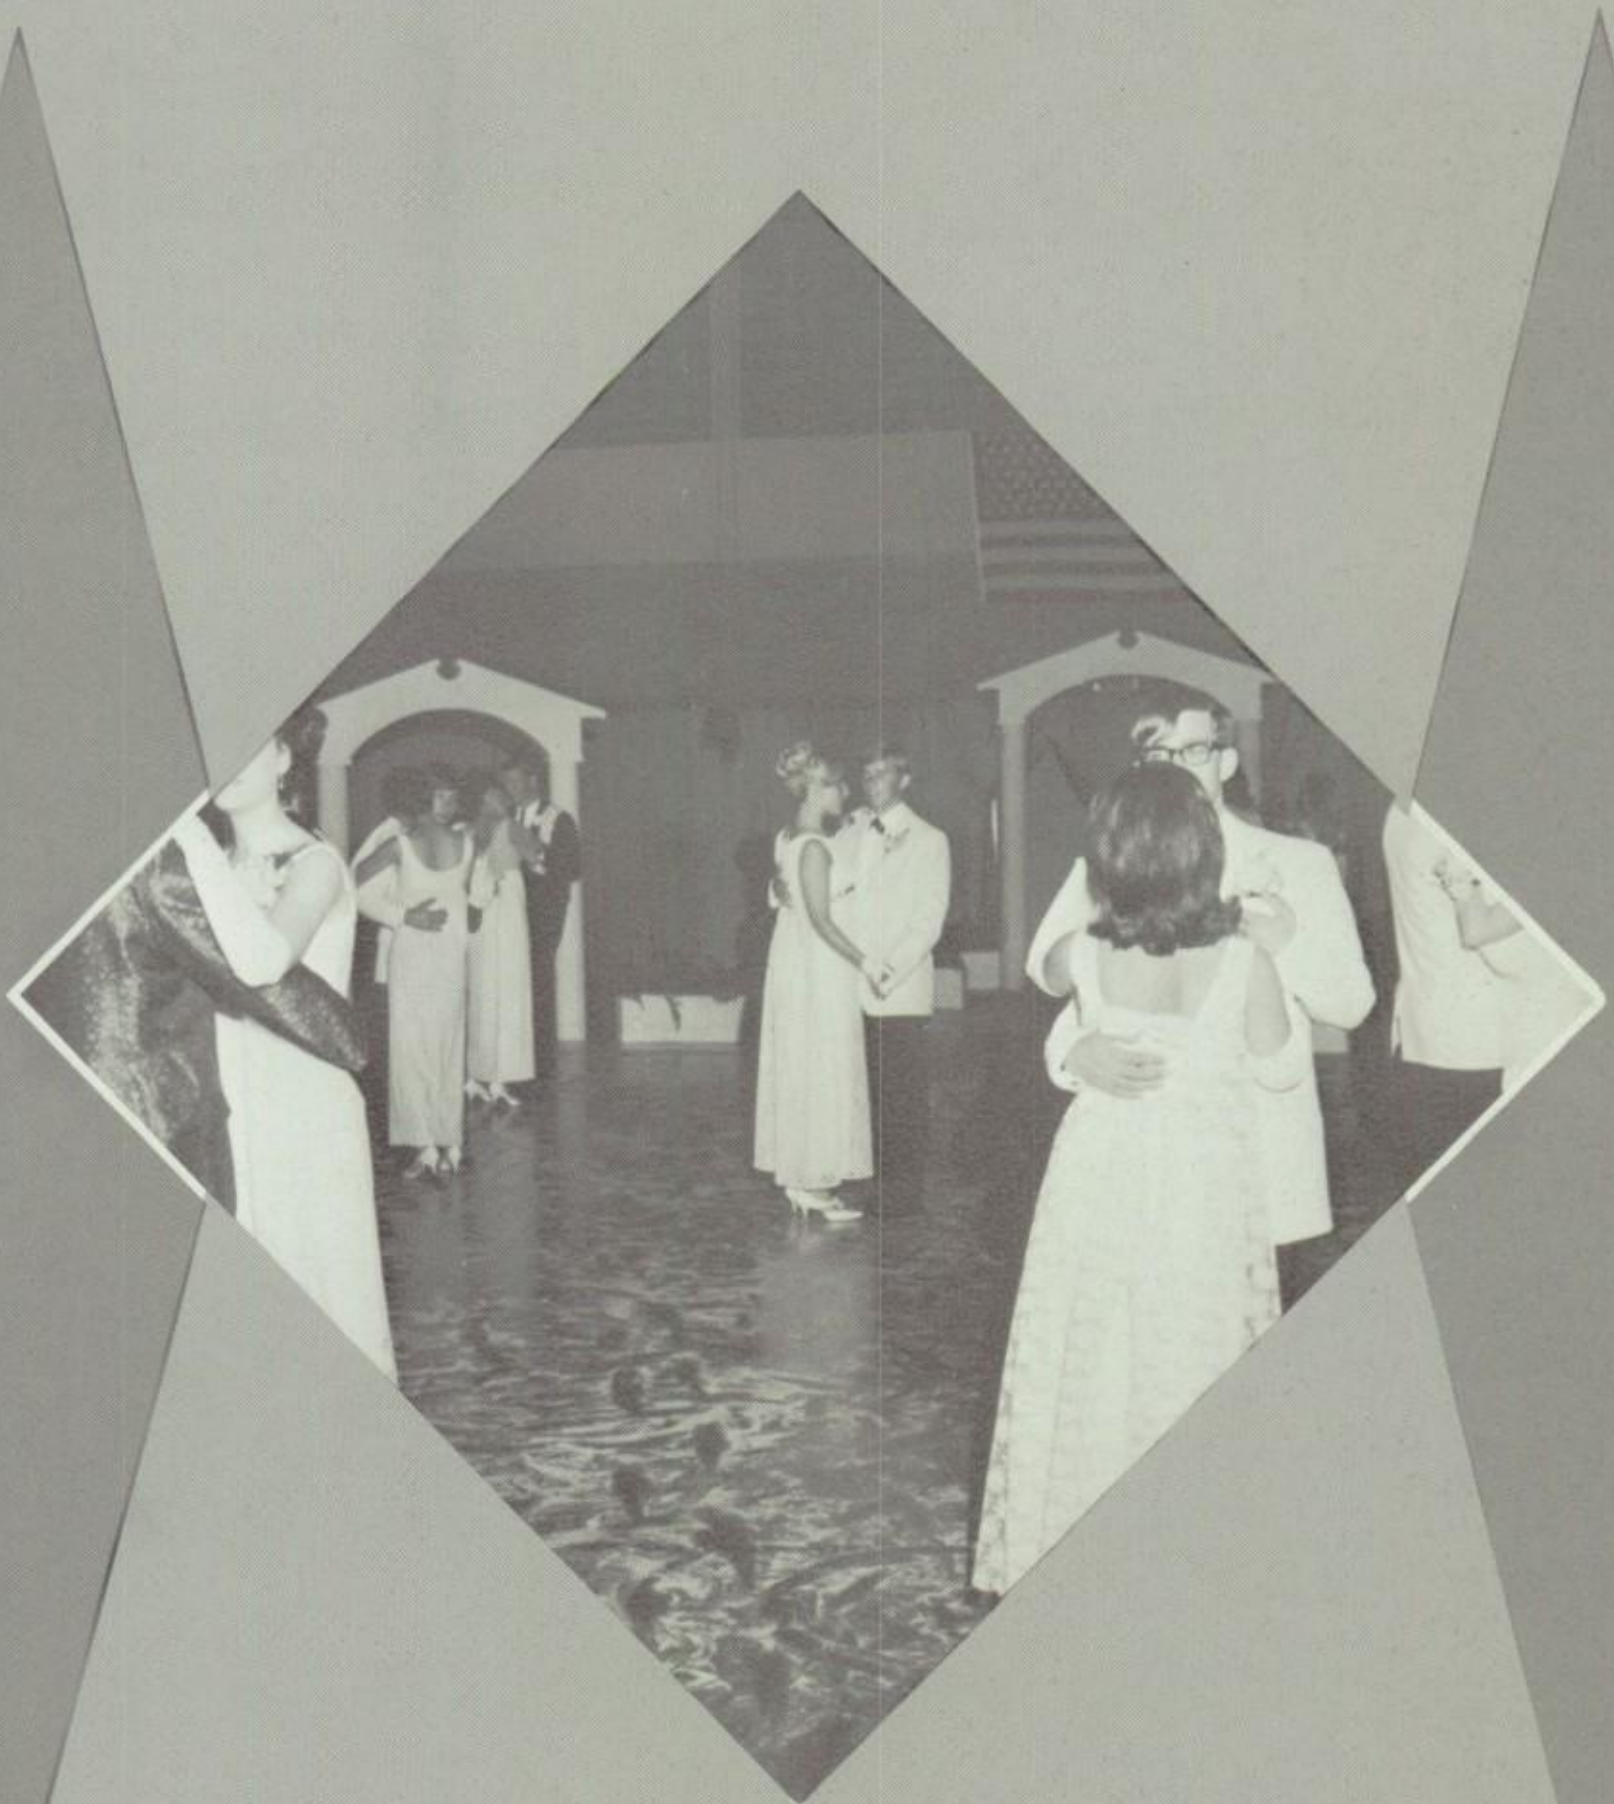

Twenty Spend Vacation in Mexico

SUNSHINE, new friends, and sightseeing at the Pyramid of the Sun were among the highlights of the trip.

Color It— Homecoming

The harsh wind could not chill the spirits of Queen Marilyn as she reigned over the Homecoming festivities of 1966.

Marilyn was active during her high school career serving her class as treasurer all four years and as band majorette for two years. She participated in the Future Teachers Association, acted as president of the Dramatics Club, and was a member of the Latin Club.

Marilyn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Motz of rural St. Johns.

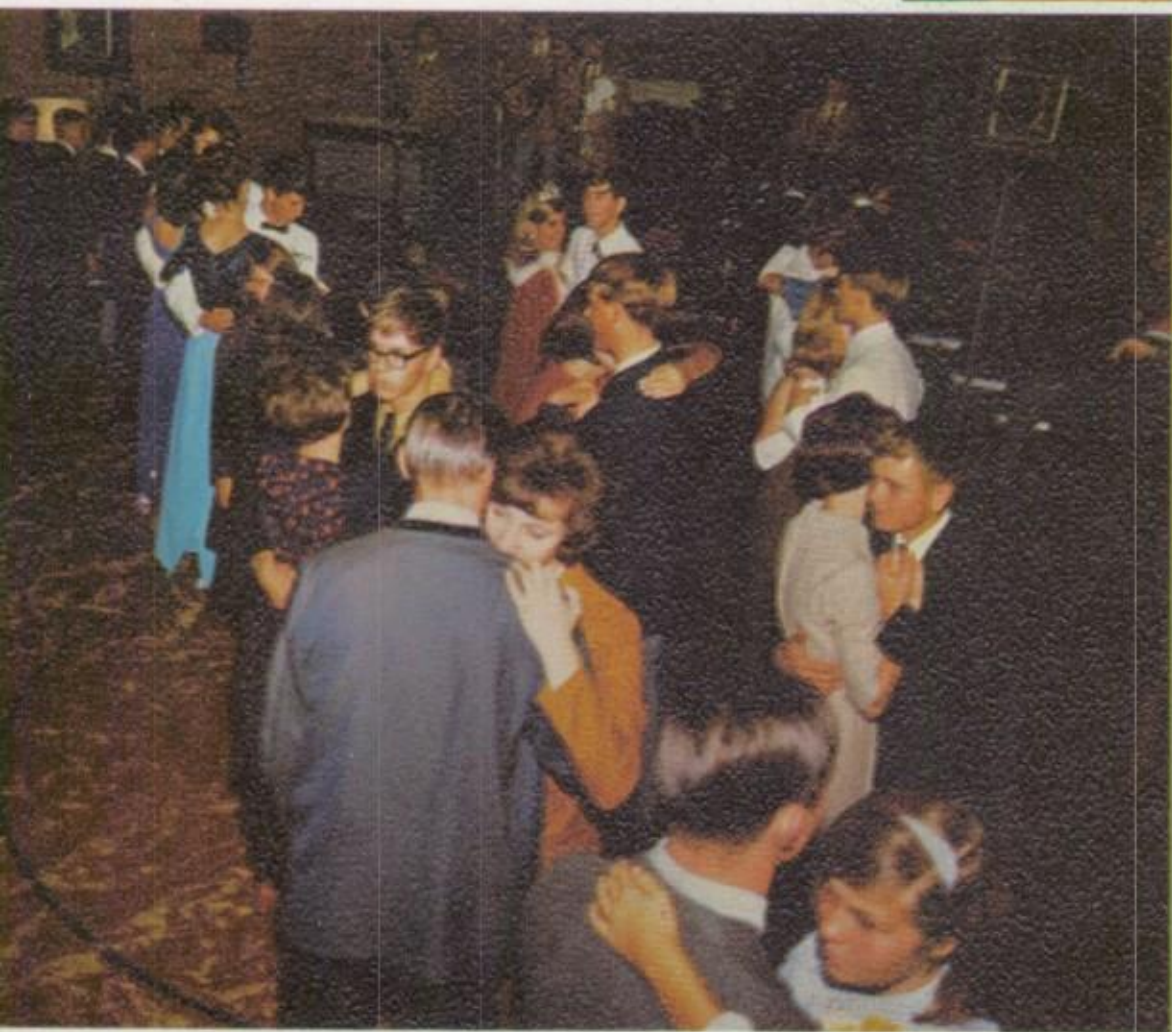

The "Clock Struck Twelve" was the Homecoming theme,
When the Plain Brown Wrappers came on the scene.

Everyone was dancing and having fun
For the Redwing team over Alma had won.

For the Seniors, especially, 'twas a memorable night,
Their final Homecoming—and it turned out just right.

Reigning over the dance were Dale Patterson, Marcia Parr, Denny Springer, Jane Taylor, Joe O'Leary, Queen Marilyn, Judy Williams, DeWayne Miller, Monica Hatta, Doug Carlisle, and attendants Johnny Bond and Patty Geller.

Pictured are the Redwing Varsity Cheerleaders: Debbie Meyer, Marilyn Eick, Rosemary Burns, Melanie Green, and Debbie Strouse. Jane Taylor, a Varsity cheerleader, was a member of the court.

Using the theme of "The Clock Struck Midnight" the seniors' large orange pumpkin pulled onto the field. Seated are: Monica Hatta, Marcia Parr, Judy Williams, Jane Taylor, Queen Marilyn Motz, and attendants John Bond and Patty Geller.

Enthusiasm Not Discouraged by Wind and Cold

With activities set to the theme of "The Clock Struck Midnight" this exciting night featured Queen Marilyn and members of the court escorted by their fathers for the first time in the half time ceremony. Another attraction of the half time activities was the Sophomore and Junior floats.

Marilynn was crowned Queen by Chuck Stockwell, Student Council President. Vice-President

Kathy Bashore presented her with a dozen roses. Miss St. Johns, Dorothy Evitts, awarded her with a plaque given by the Chamber of Commerce.

The climax of the memorable evening was the Cinderella Ball held in the gym. Queen Marilyn and her court reigned over the dance with the music furnished by The Plain Brown Wrappers.

Raymond Parr, Robert Williams, Art Motz, Mike Hatta, and Archie Taylor, the proud but nervous fathers of the Queen and her court, arrive on the field for the half time ceremony.

Ellen Green escorted by her father, Timothy Green, represented the Freshman class.

Dobie's efforts to bring a name band to the school dance ends with Happy Stella Kowalski's Shottishe Five. Cathy Nuser, Ginger

Simpson, Sue Bunge, Linda Spousta, Sandy McQueen, with their leader, Sandy Masarik, practice for the big dance.

Every school has its hero and Echo High is no exception. Admiring Pete are Polly, Lola, Helen, Francie, and Sally.

Mischief is in Imogene's eyes as she peeks around the corner.

Juniors Present 'The Many Loves Of Dobie Gillis'

The Junior Class presented "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis" November 18 and 19.

Dobie Gillis, played by Doug Crawford, caused many hilarious events as he tried to help with the Homecoming dance, Helen's chemistry, and the Echo Queen Contest.

Mrs. JoAnne Osborne directed the play with Janean Geller, student director, and Dee Ann Gill, prompter.

Movie star Limbo Lamb makes her grand entrance into Dobie's arms.

Bradley, Mike Galvach, Kay Rademacker, Dottie Jenkins, Steve Tarr, Rhonda Lewis, Robert Lundy, Doug Peck, Susan Remus, Sandy McQueen, Ginger Simpson, Donna Ballard, Nancy Locher, and Judy Ripple

Do you suppose that Santa is really decorating for the ball or is he just watching over the couples?

Christmas Ball Excites All

On December 17, the High School was transformed into a holiday atmosphere, as the first Christmas Ball was presented by the Student Council.

The Christmas Ball, open to all grades, took the place of the traditional winter prom.

Unlike the usual mood music, the couples danced to the beat of the Fugitives.

Pam Bensen and Ted Loomis dance amid the splendor of the Christmas Ball.

In the festive atmosphere the carolers seemed to come to life.

The Fugitives from Detroit provided the music.

One of the many couples who enjoyed the evening was DeWayne Miller and Judy Williams.

Taking advantage of this cozy corner are Jamie Barger and Jim Smith.

Seniors Change Play Tradition

On March 7 and 8, 1967 the Senior Class of Rodney B. Wilson presented "something different." This unique experience consisted of the presentation of three one-act plays. Between each of these performances the stage curtains were left open and the audience was allowed to see the changing of the sets.

The first play was entitled "The Plum Tree." It was presented on a plum monochromatic set and told the tale of the tragedy in becoming old.

"Judgment Morning" followed and left the audience on the edge of its seat with its plot of suspense and drama involved around three people who are not sure if they have passed into the hereafter.

The last one-act play to be presented was a hilarious comedy entitled "The Trumpet," which showed what would happen if a compulsive habit like playing a trumpet at midnight had to be broken.

Kathy Corkin, Chuck Stockwell, Marilyn Motz, and Adele Frost made up the cast of "Judgment Morning."

She, Kathy Bashore, pleads with He, Jerry Lewis, for the comfort of the trumpet. Supporting actors were John Gretzinger, Prudy Walker, Dave Waltz, and Joe O'Leary. The trumpet was played off-stage by Wayne Woodbury.

Nancy MacLuckie acted as the student director for "The Trumpet" while Marilyn Eick was the student director for "Judgment Morning."

Director James Bargar, and assistant director Sharon Hall, discuss the details of the final production.

An important part of the production was the stage crew. They were Wayne Woodbury, Gary Silm, Doug Schafer, Prudy Walker, Adele Frost, Doub Blizzard, and Bill Eldridge.

Ted Loomis and Pam Benson admire one of the colored fountains.

'Rhapsody in Blue' Sets Mood For Prom

The first joint Junior-Senior Prom, May 27, was "Rhapsody in Blue." The gym was beautifully transformed by the use of blue and silver, and white columns draped with blue cloth. Green plants in white urns provided an airy effect.

The band was situated against a dark blue background sprinkled with silver musical motifs.

Joe O'Leary and Marilyn Motz chat with Mr. and Mrs. William Brotz and Mr. and Mrs. Steven Moscove.

Academ Given

BRENDA FLEGLER received the GAA trophy for outstanding participation in the girls sports area.

FOUR OF THE SIX WINNERS of the Wilson Scholarship were John Lerg, Kathy Bashore, Ted Lietzke, and Sharon Hall. Kathy Bashore also received the FHA Scholarship and the Alumni Scholarship for an outstanding senior. The Bausch and Lomb Honorary Science Award was won by Ted Lietzke.

CHUCK STOCKWELL receives a Wilson Scholarship from Superintendent Lancaster.

MR. LANCASTER presents a Wilson Scholarship to Linda Lounds. Linda also received an Olivetti Underwood Award in Business Education. Another Olivetti winner was Veronica Glowacki.

Jon Ricker presents red roses to Gay Bond in thanks for her four years of service to the Class of '67.

Seniors Say 'We're in the Money Now'

Money trees were used to accentuate the fact that the Class of '67 had earned the money back that was lost in the "Great Robbery."

Charles Stockwell, Student Council President, presided over the last social event of the class. Kathy Bashore offered the invocation with Jon Ricker reading the Class History and Jerry Lewis reading the Class Prophecy.

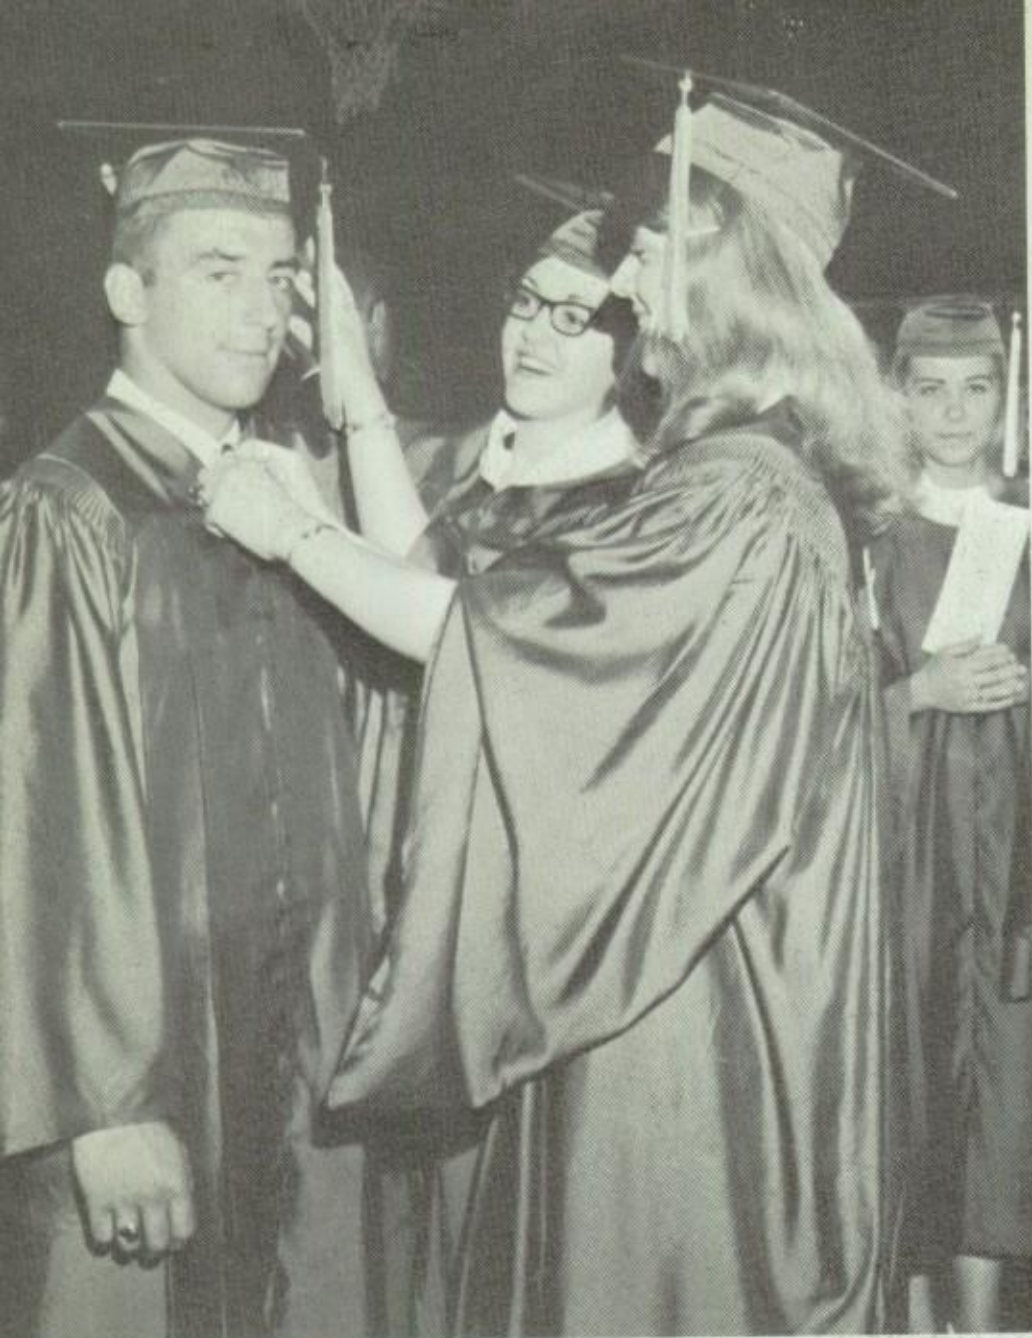

Gay Bond presented a miniature safe to the school as a gift from the Senior class, and Carla Motz gave the scholarship donation.

John Salemi accepted the gavel for the Junior class from Carla Motz, Senior Class Vice-President.

Closing remarks were made by Superintendent Lancaster.

SPEAKERS AND GUESTS. Jon Ricker, Kathy Bashore, Charles Stockwell, Mrs. Stanley Pocuis, Mr. Stanley Pocuis, principal; Mr. Earl Lancaster, superintendent; Mrs. Earl Lancaster, Mr. Dwane Wirick, assistant principal; Mrs. Dwane Wirick, Mr. Donald Bast, trustee; Mrs. Donald Bast.

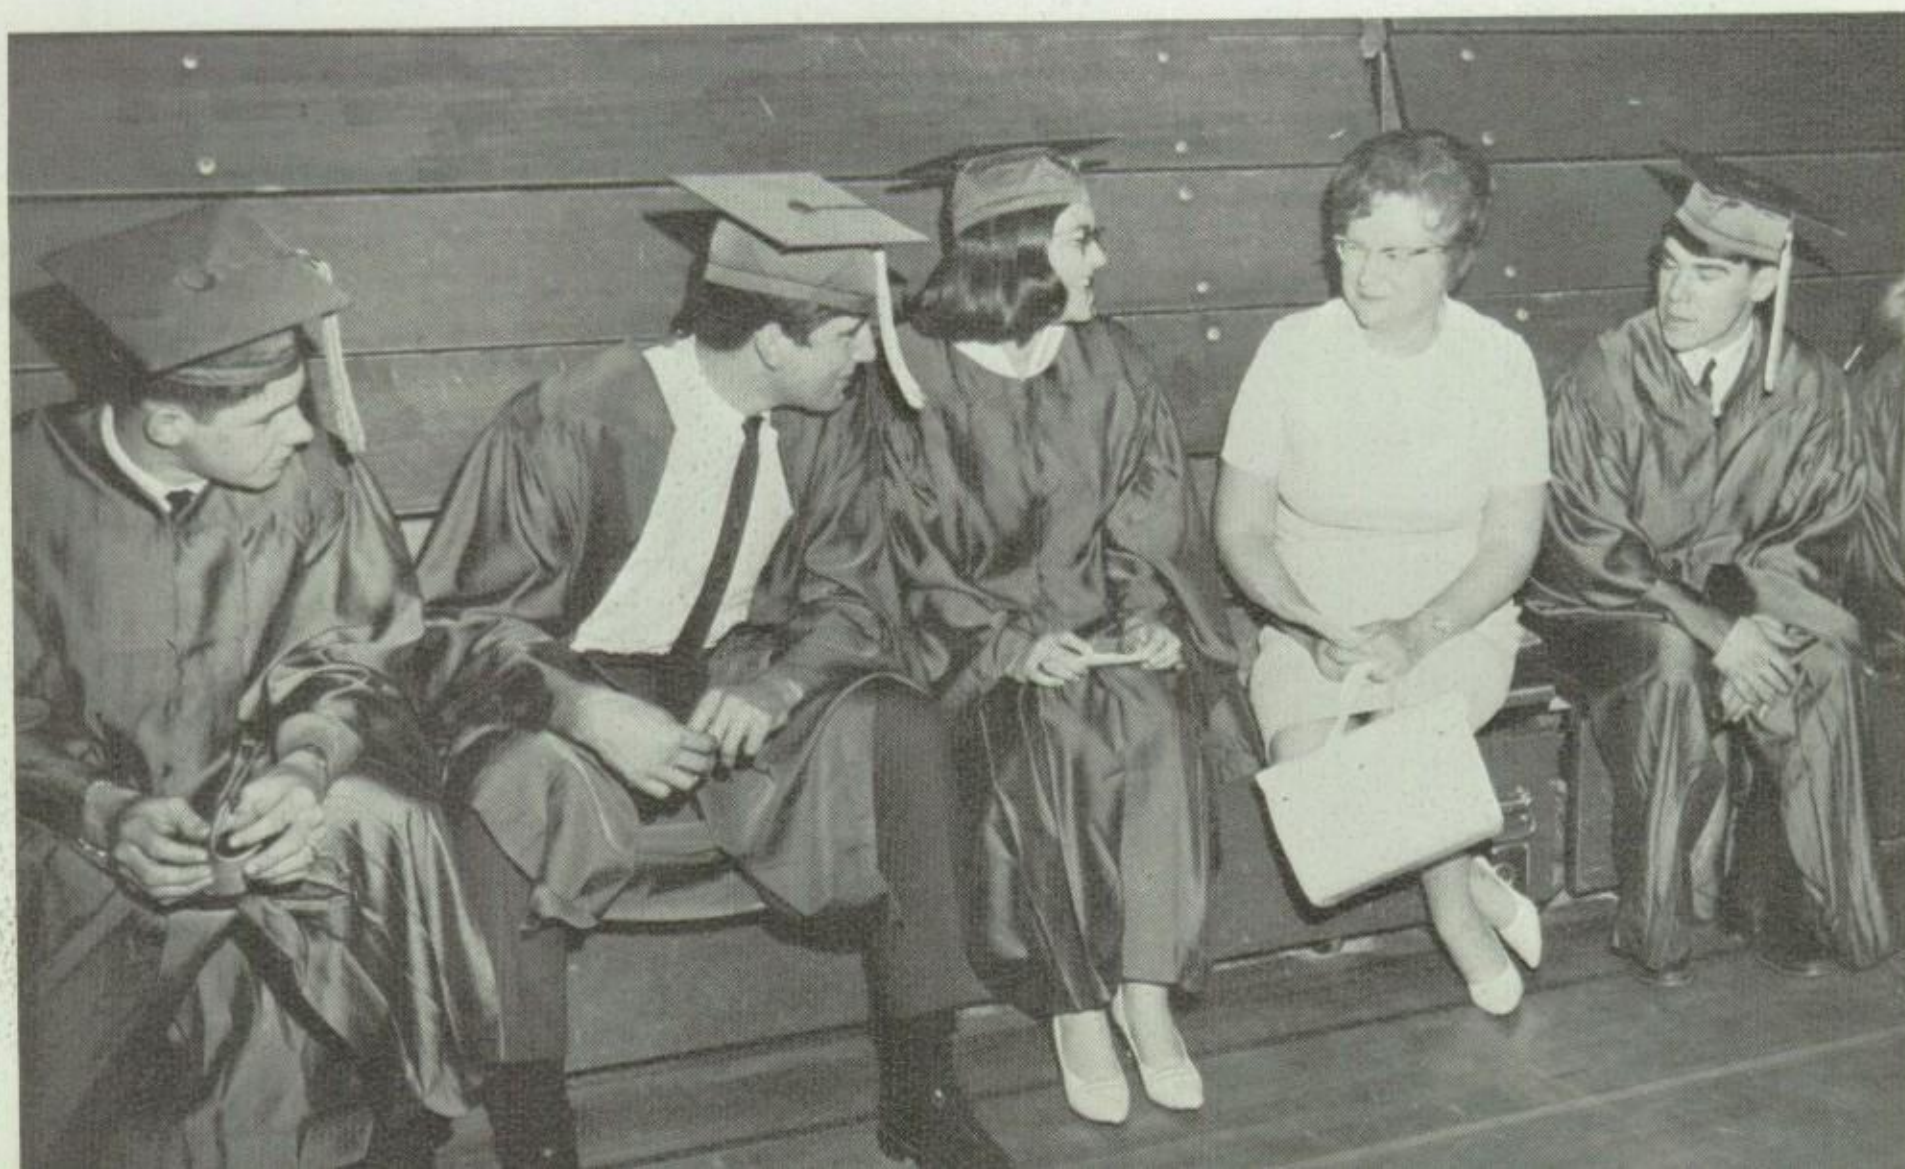

DALE BAUER gets final assistance from Pat Kridner and Adele Frost before lining up for the Baccalaureate grand march.

Baccalaureate Sets Mood For Graduation

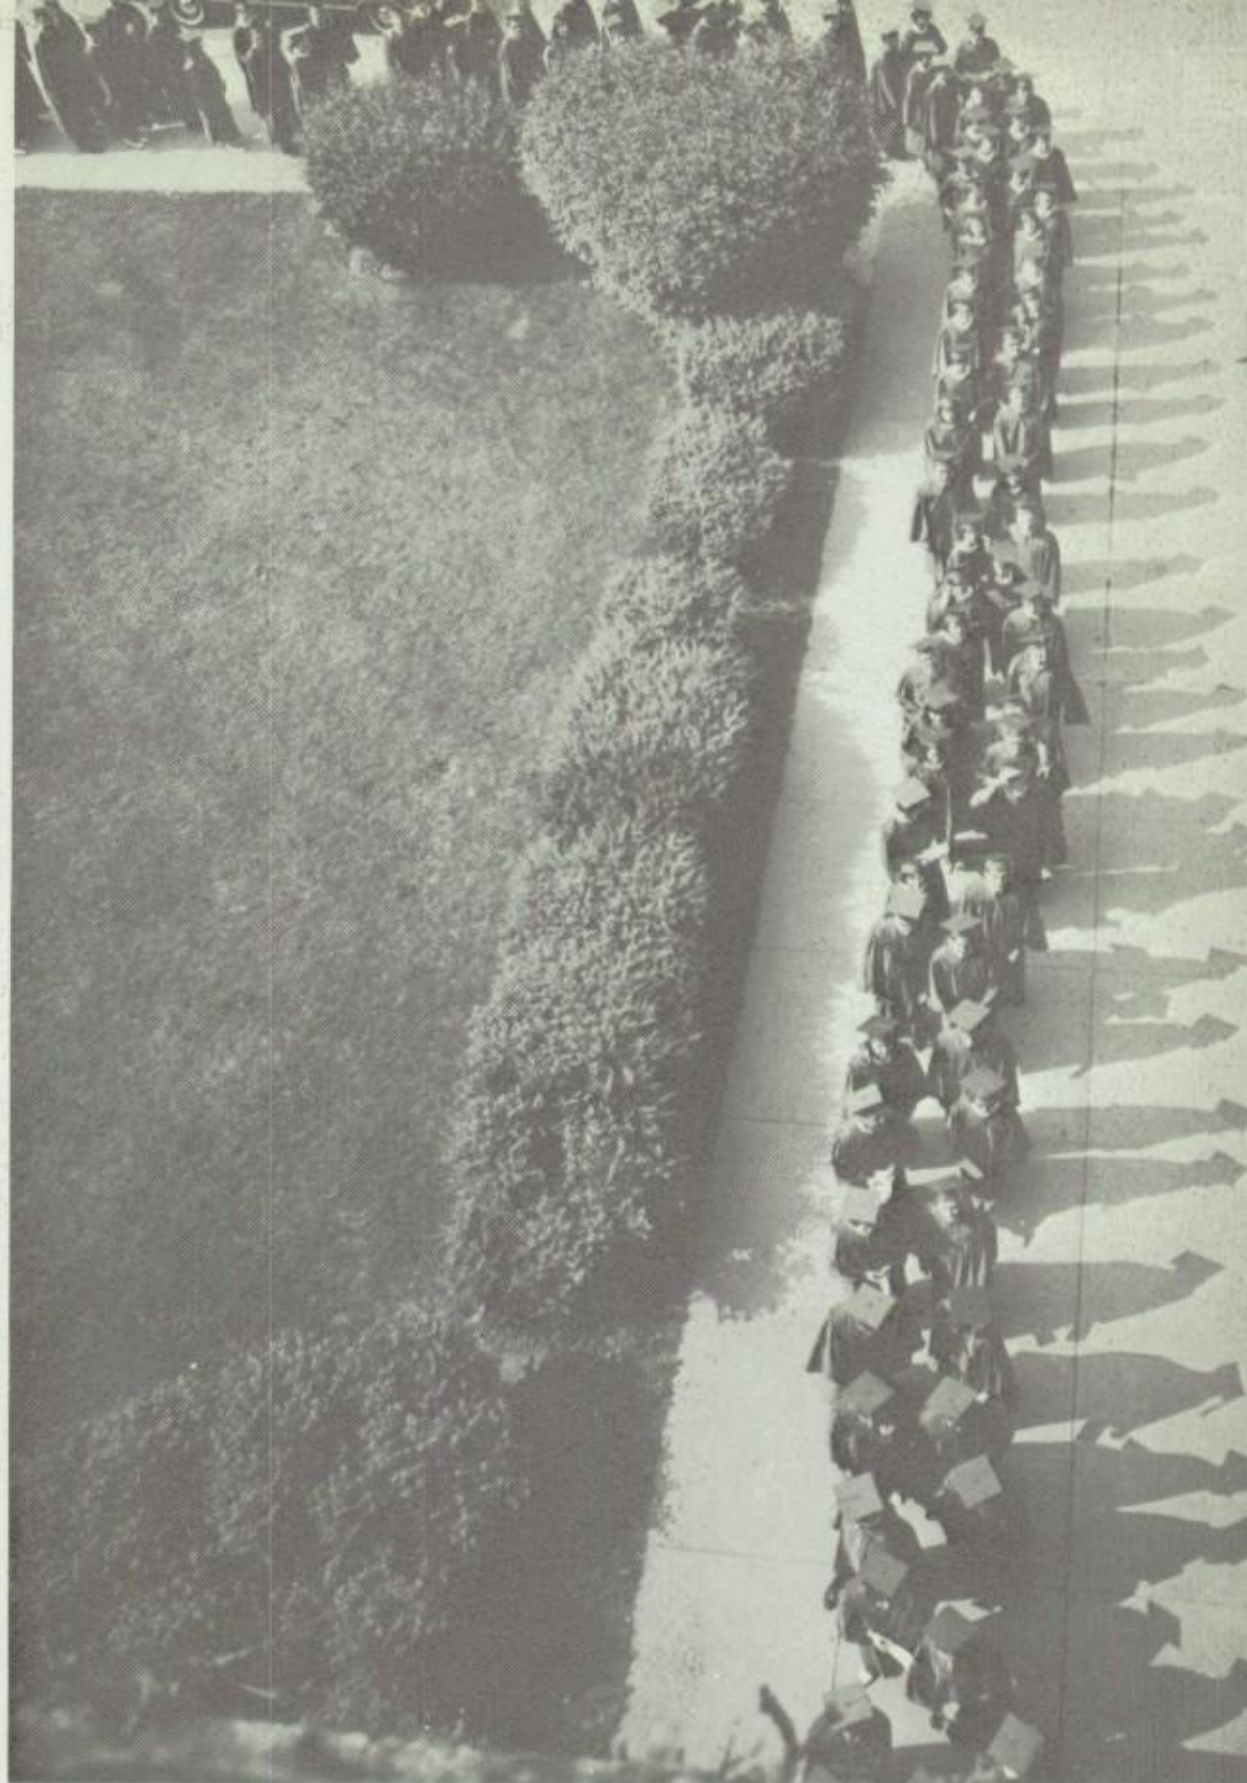

THE MAN with the plan, Principal Stanley Pocus, gets seniors on their way.

KNOWN AS "Settling the jitters" Mrs. Dorothy Bates chats with Larry Blizzard, Rick Liszewski, Nancy MacLuckie, and Kurt Woodbury.

CASTING LONG SHADOWS, the Seniors began the first big step toward graduation.

Platform guests included the Board members, Administration, and local clergymen.

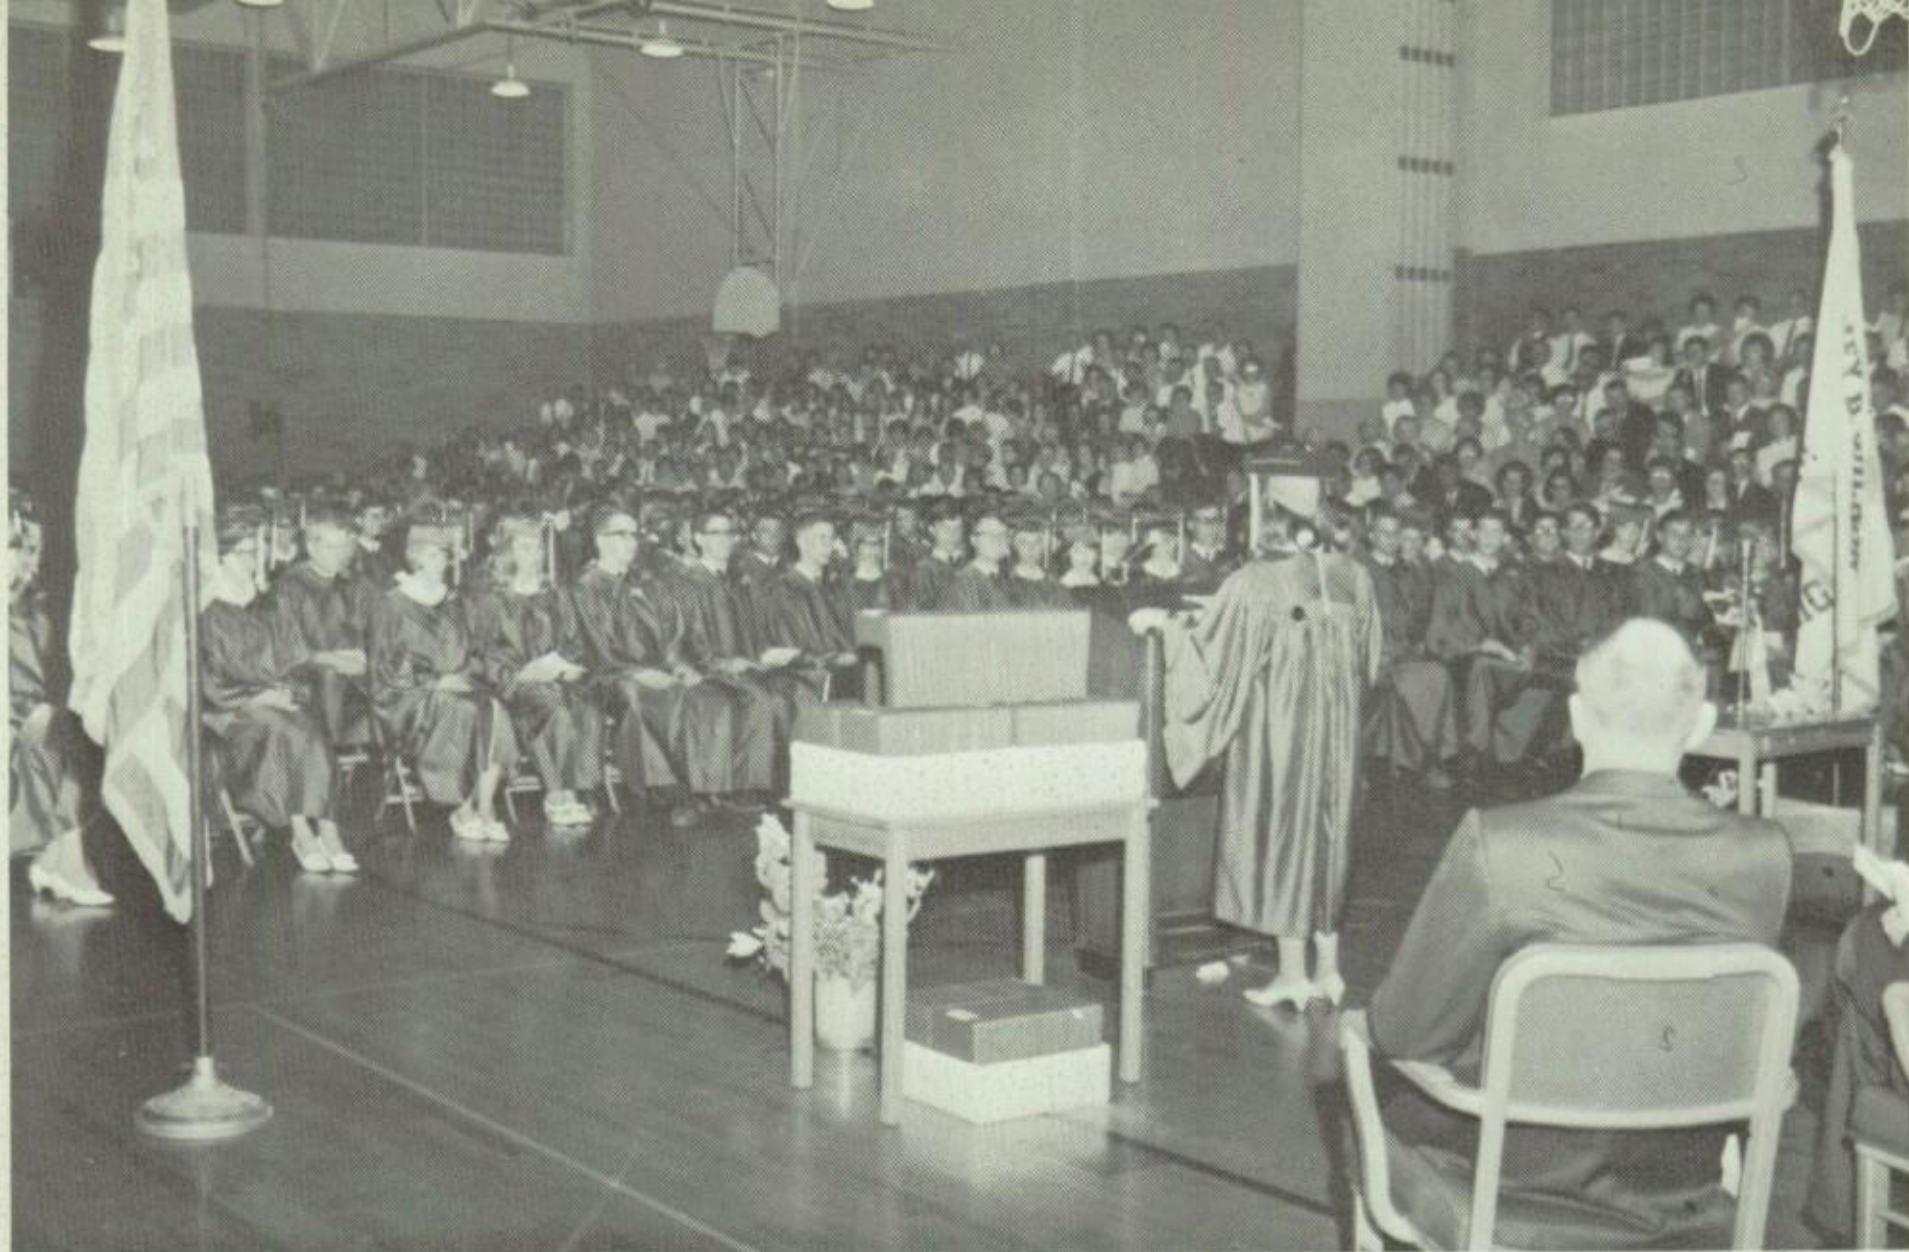

The Invocation was given by Rev. Roger Harrison and the Scripture was read by Rev. Elton Raymond. "Frontiers Unlimited" was the topic of the address presented by Rev. Gerald Churchill.

The Seniors and their parents joined in singing the hymn "Faith of Our Fathers" after which, Rev. Theodore Moeller gave the Benediction.

Miss Jean Wilson played the Processional and the Recessional.

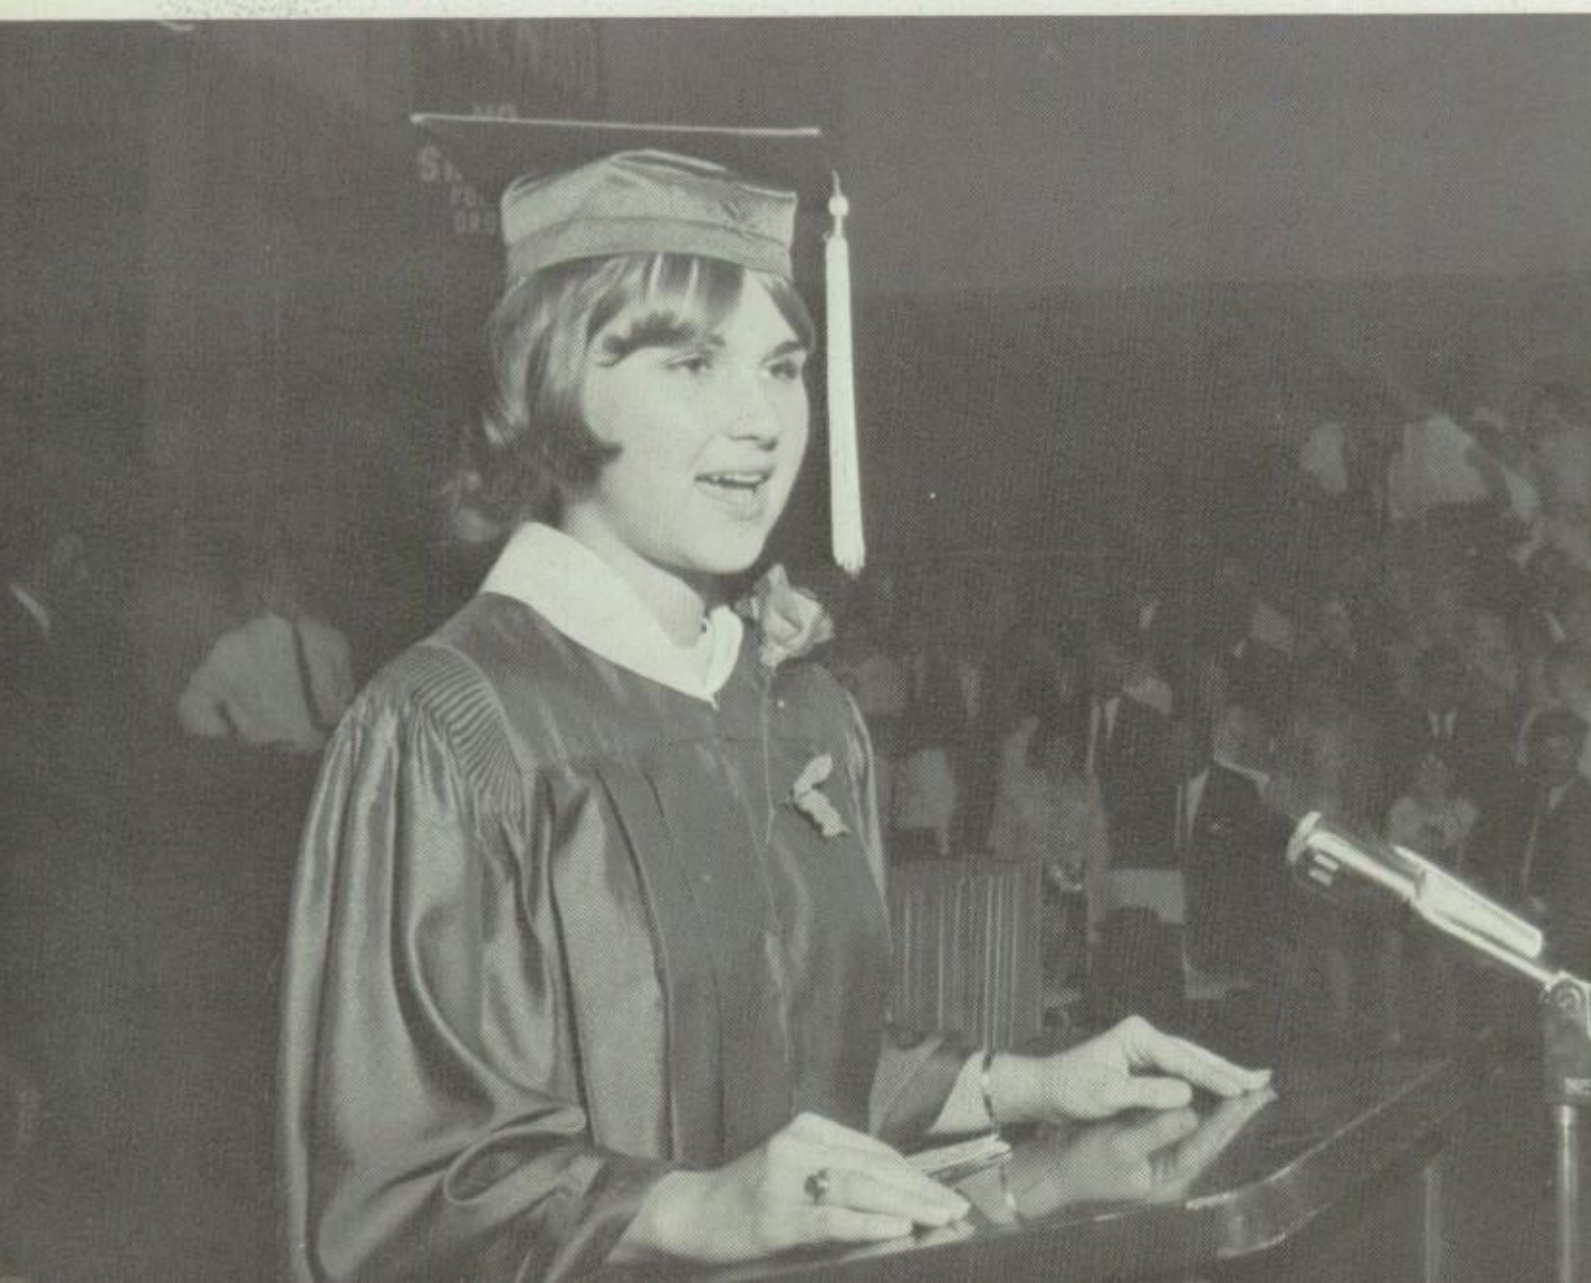

SENIOR MEMBERS of the Concert Choir joined the others in singing two hymns at the service.

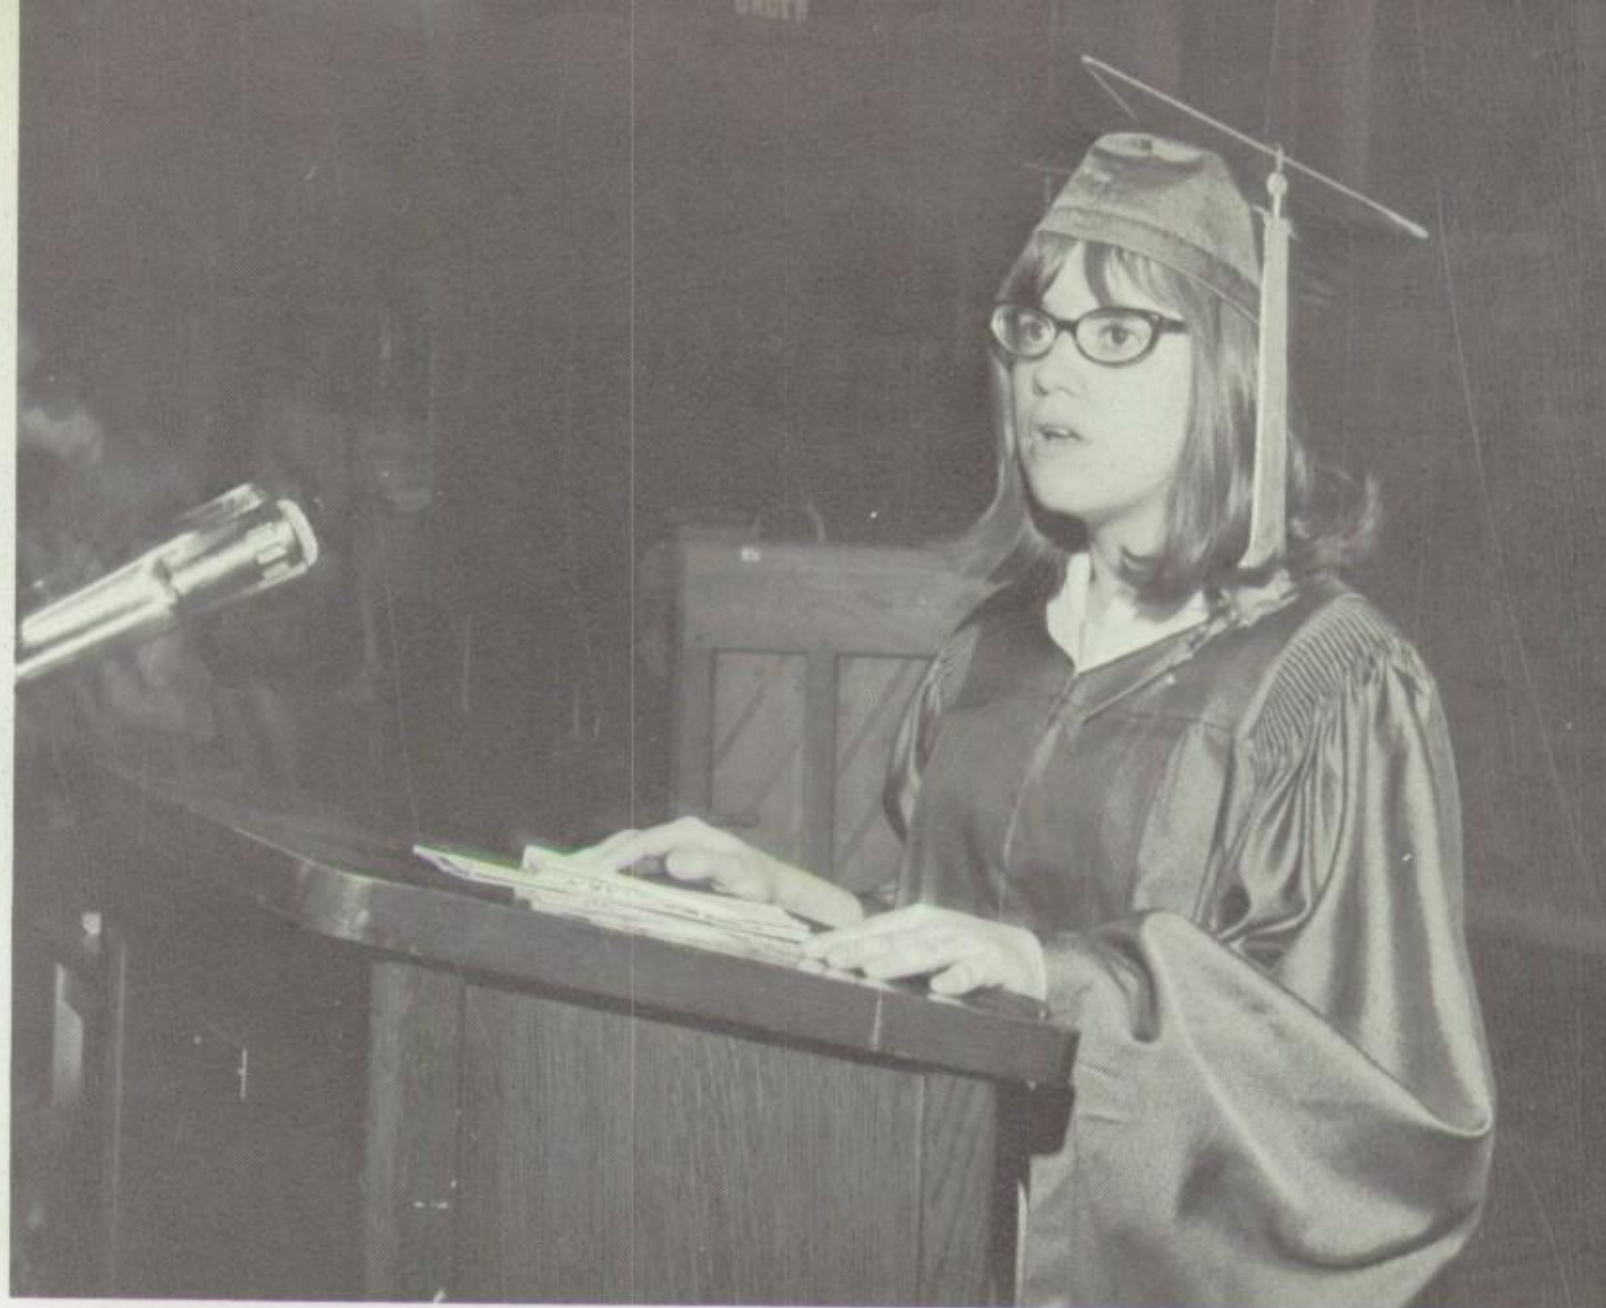

SENIORS AND GUESTS endured the heat and crowded gym at Commencement exercises. Records show that the rain was the first in 42 days.

So . . . It Rained for Commencement

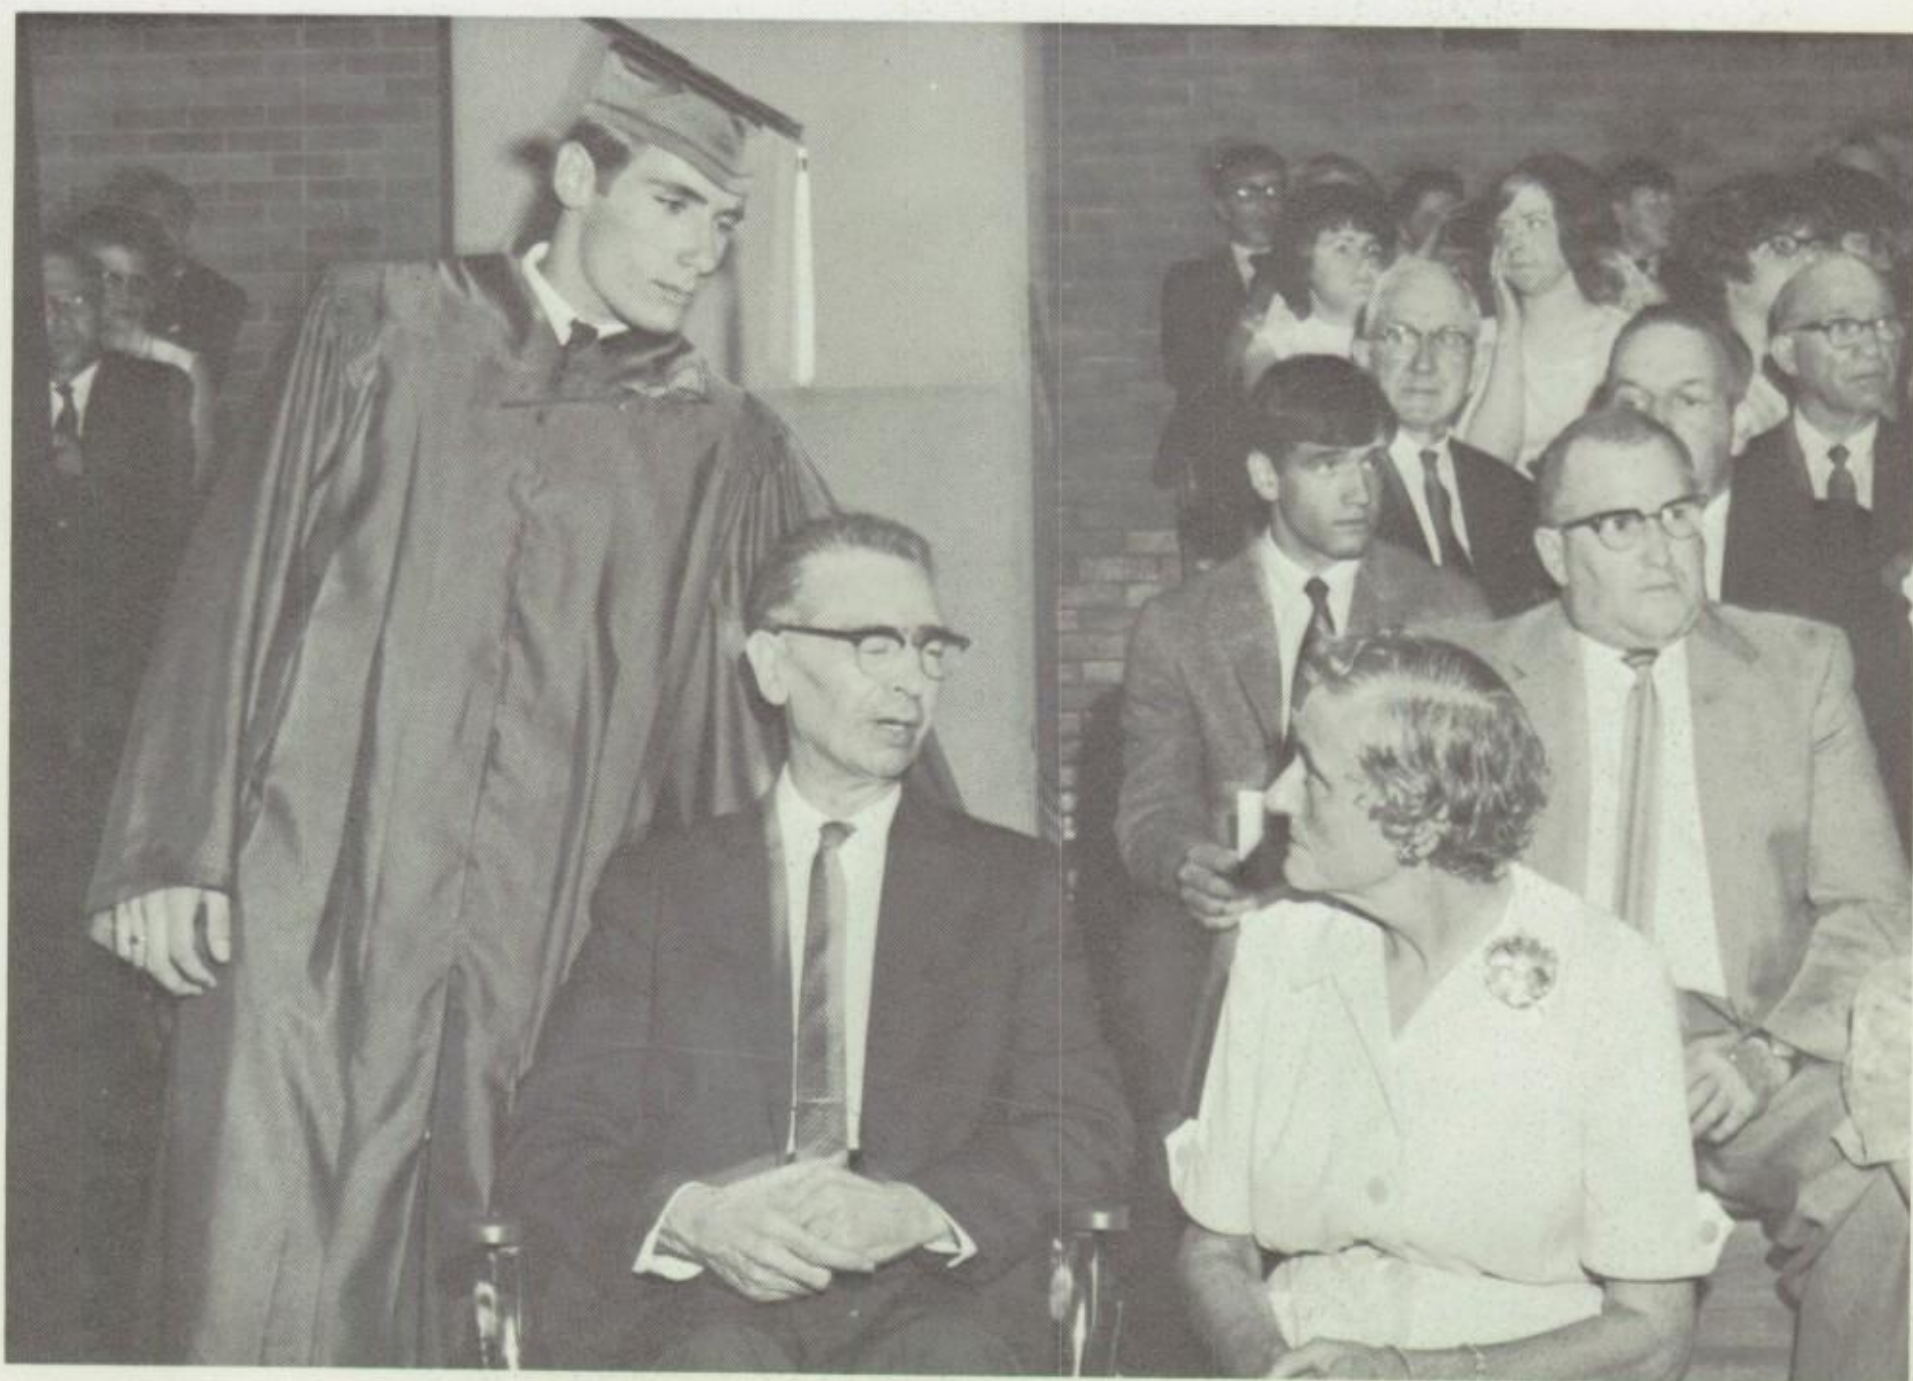

KATHY BASHORE ably shortened her Valedictory to suit the time and conditions.

CATHY CORKIN developed the idea of tradition. She said that we must know the past in order to value the future.

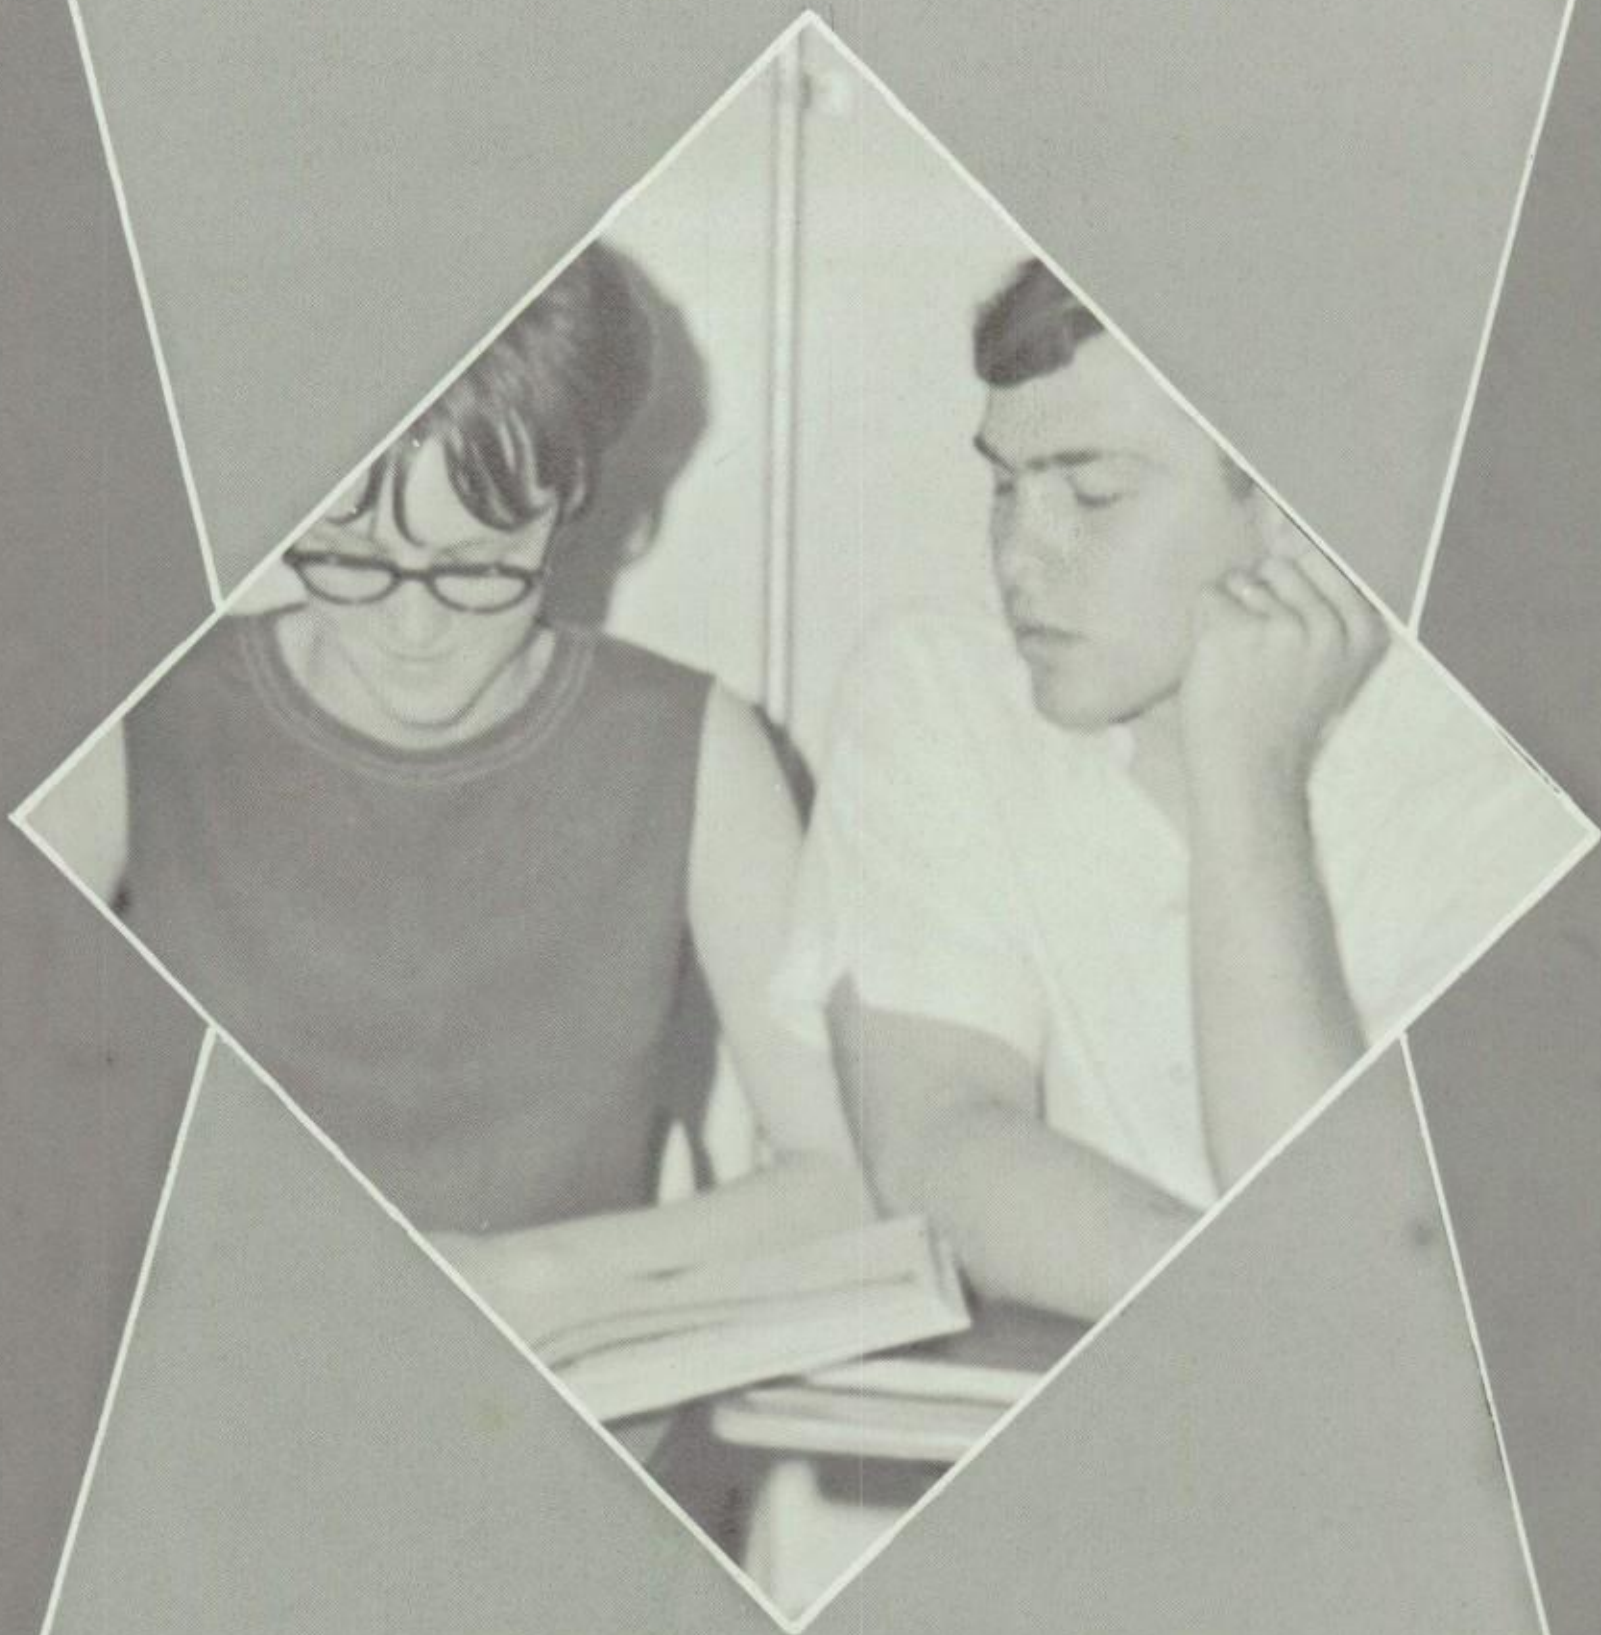

BILL DEGROOT welcomed his mother and dad to Commencement.
